Truce in 3 Days Is Report

HEARTBROKEN—Frank Riggins, father of 13-year-old Donald Riggins, who drowned near Malcolm Wednesday, looks out over the pond on the Reed Gammel farm watching and waiting and saying over and over, "I hope it is anything but this!" Directing the search for the boy from the opposite bank is Howard Neel, acting assistant fire chief of the Lincoln Fire Department, which helped find the body after a two-hour search. Douglas Co. Holds Up State Board

Fails to Report Assessments

It appeared that Douglas County Thursday was "holding up the whole works" on settlement of the tax assessment equalization.

Failure to receive the Douglas County abstract of assessments barred the State Board of Equalization from announcing adjustments for valuations in Nebraska's 93 counties. The abstract was due on July 1.

Thus Douglas County Assessor Joe Stolinski apparently was back in the same "disfavor" with state officials which he enjoyed for months when he insisted that Nebraska's largest county would cut last year's valuations in half in conformance with the 50 per cent law.

Asked whether the State Board planned any action against Stolinski for tardiness, Gov. Robert Crosby said, "We haven't discussed it."

* * *

BUT WHILE the State Board waits, the counties are also champing at the bit. They have to have the information of valuations raises or decreases in time to break it down for the setting of levies by the counties. Date for that is Aug. 3, which leaves less than 10 working days to go.

At Omaha the Douglas County Board of Equalization scheduled a final meeting Thursday, the Associated Press said. Officials explained that because of its tremendous amount of property—the county accounts for about 10 per cent of the state's total assessed valuations—it has been snowed under with work.

* * *

THE WORK also was delayed by indecision earlier as how to proceed with readjustment of assessments. Only when Stolinski's "cut 'em in half" view was overridden, did a change come.

But this meant changing valuation figures on about 100,000 parcels of land.

Lillian Tybering, secretary of the Douglas County Board of Commissioners, declined to predict when the job of assembling the county's total valuation figures would be finished.

"They may get done Thursday or Friday and they may not," Miss Tybering said.

Malcolm Boy, 13, Drowns

Donald Riggins, 13, of Malcolm who took a wooden raft to a farm pond Wednesday evening drowned in the pool.

One of eight children of the Frank Rigginses, he was found after firemen and neighbors dragged the 100-yard pond on the property of Reed Gammel a half mile from the trailer home of Donald's family on the outskirts of Malcolm.

Malcolm resident Lloyd Biggs stumbled over the boy's body as Biggs waded neck deep on the end of a 25-man dragline which had swept the pond for an hour. The boy was dead when brought to shore.

* * *

VIRGINIA, his 6-year-old sister, told how she and "Donnie" had gone to the pond about 2 p.m. to try out the boy's homemade raft, about three feet long. He had left her to go after his fishing rods, said Virginia, after pushing her on the raft a little. When she looked around and saw he was gone, she said, she paddled herself to shore.

"I called for him but he didn't answer," she said. She heard no cries for help and did not see him go under.

Mrs. Riggins said her daughter came home and said: "I think Donnie's drowned."

* * *

MR. AND MRS. RIGGINS rushed to the scene while a Lincoln fire department rescue boat was summoned.

Boat-dragging operations near the scene of the boy's discarded clothing were fruitless until firemen organized a line of volunteers who waded and swam shoulder to shoulder carrying a line across the length of the pool. The body was found at 6:30 p.m.

The boy's father, an air base laborer, who had held the center of the dragline, was overcome by the shock and had to have medical attention at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

* * *

THE BOY WAS to have entered the eighth grade at Malcolm school this fall. His mother said he had been a "good swimmer."

Besides Virginia and his parents, he is survived by sisters, Ida May, 16, Alvina Faye, 11, Mrs. Cletus Mendenhall of Lincoln and Mrs. Don Stienshouer of Malcolm; and two brothers, Merle and Frank Jr., both of Lincoln.

For the Rigginses it was the second tragedy in two weeks. Their son-in-law, Don Stienshouer, suffered broken legs and a broken arm in a 35-foot fall from a bridge on July 13 and is at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was reported in "fairly good" condition.

Shepherd Funeral Will Be Friday

The funeral of Judge Frederick Shepherd will be at 11 a.m. Friday at Roberts, with Dr. Raymond A. McConnell officiating. Burial will be in Wyuka.

Pallbearers will be T. F. A. Williams, E. H. Schroeder, R. E. Deemer, A. A. Dobson, J. J. Grainger and Arthur Perry.

Gas Blast Kills 2 Boys At Bruning

Special to The Journal

BRUNING — A gas explosion in the basement of their home in Bruning fatally injured two small brothers.

The boys, who died while being taken to an Omaha hospital, were David Wilken, 5, and Roger, 3.

The father, Rex, hardware store employee, was burned and the mother and older sister received slight injuries.

The father was reported in good condition after his arrival at an Omaha hospital. The two brothers and the father were first treated at a Hebron hospital.

Bruning Fire Chief Wayne Thompson blamed gas in the basement for the blast. He said gas apparently escaped from a faulty water heater fed from a 500 gallon storage tank outside the house.

Three basement walls were blown out by the blast, Thompson said, and the house was lifted 10 inches and then dropped back to about normal level.

The boys had gone to the basement with the father to light the heater. Mrs. Wilken and Claudia, 6, were upstairs. There was no fire after the blast.

Funeral services are planned for Saturday morning at Trinity Lutheran Church in Bruning.

AF Cut Assailed In Senate

'Slash Gives Air to Reds'

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Richard Russell told the Senate the administration's cuts in Air Force funds will give Russia "increasing preponderant strength" in the air in years to come.

The Georgia Democrat, a former chairman of the Armed Services Committee, spoke out during debate on the $34,511,302,000 military spending bill. Senate leaders were pushing for a final vote on the bill by nightfall.

Russell said the $5 billion Air Force budget slash proposed by President Eisenhower will be felt in U.S. air strength in the years 1954, 1955, and 1956.

* * *

HE SAID IT would push further the "widening gap" between the relative strength of the U.S. Air Force and that of Soviet Russia and its satellites.

Sen. Maybank (D-SC) predicted the vote will be close on his proposal to give the Air Force an extra $400 million for jet bombers—

"If they pass that one, the gate is open," said Sen. Russell Long (D-La), who is opposed to Maybank's proposal. It would give the Air Force money to buy 200 additional B-47 jet bombers, capable of delivering atomic bombs.

Numerous other amendments were pending when the Senate, after 12 hours of steady work, recessed overnight.

* * *

A ROARING dispute over whether areas of high unemployment should be given preference in the award of defense contracts, as they have been in the past, took most of the time and energy.

Maybank, in the Senate Appropriations Committee, attached a rider to the defense measure to ban the practice.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, led the effort to kill the rider but lost, 62-25.

House-Okd Ag Bill Sent To Senate

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House approved by voice vote and sent to the Senate compromise legislation providing $718,395,398 for the Agriculture Department for the current fiscal year.

The Senate had voted $716,779,768 and the House $712,747,828. President Eisenhower asked for $703,974,742, compared with former President Truman's budget request for $749,852,342.

Salt-Wahoo in Southeastern Nebraska, Dry Creek near McCook, and Indian Creek near Beatrice are three of the 48 national projects expected to receive portions of the $5 million watershed work appropriation included in the version past by the House.

Morrill Tot, 1, Drowns in Ditch

MORRILL (AP)—Roger Lee Harsin, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Harsin of Morrill drowned late Wednesday in a foot-deep irrigation ditch.

Officers said the drowning occurred in a field where the youngster had gone with his father. The boy apparently toppled into the ditch.

The child was rushed to a Mitchell doctor's office by his parents, but an effort made to revive him failed.

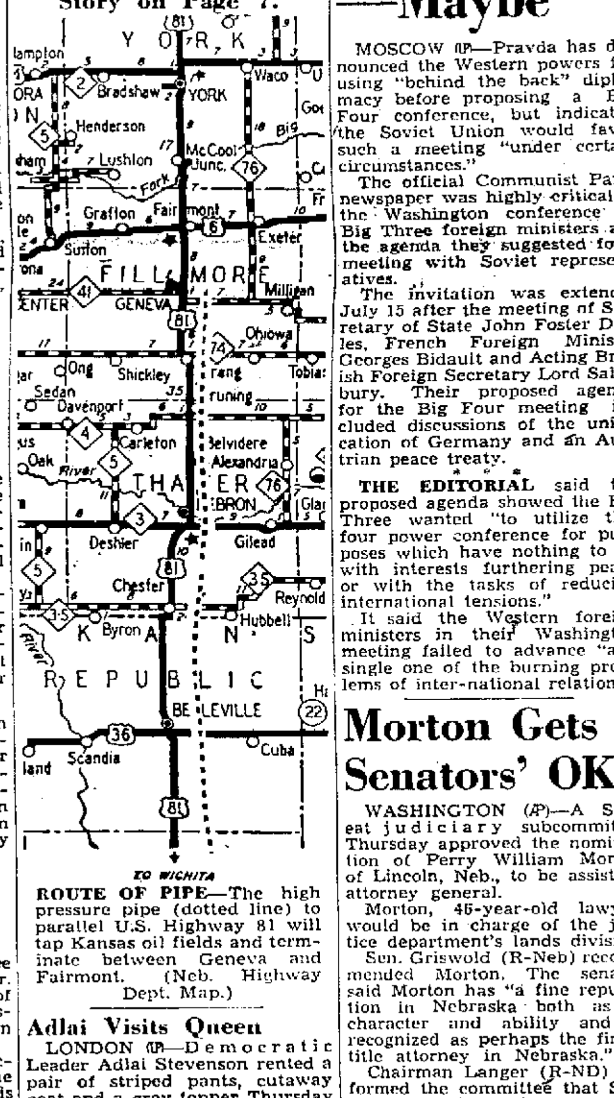

The Harsin family lives about eight miles northwest of Morrill.

Modern Neapolitan 'Suicide' Pact Ends Happily in Morgue

NAPLES, Italy (UP)—Nunzia Majone, 20, and Antonio Mainardi, 21, were very much in love but Antonio's parents opposed their marriage.

In despair they made a suicide pact.

They met on a narrow Naples street Wednesday, each armed with a knife with which they had sworn to slit each other's throats.

Antonio struck first. His hand wavered with emotion. He barely scratched Nunzia's throat. She then wielded her knife, but missed.

Antonio fainted.

Nunzia saw Antonio fall to the pavement, stained with her own blood. Believing she had killed him, she fainted.

A passer-by saw the two lying on the pavement and fled in horror. Minutes later hundreds of excited Neapolitans gathered at the scene.

The "bodies" were rushed to the morgue of a nearby hospital.

There they sat up and embraced.

The attending nurse fainted.

Soviet OKs Big 4 Talk —Maybe

MOSCOW (UP)—Pravda has denounced the Western powers for using "behind the back" diplomacy before proposing a Big Four conference, but indicated the Soviet Union would favor such a meeting "under certain circumstances."

The official Communist Party newspaper was highly critical of the Washington conference of Big Three foreign ministers and the agenda they suggested for a meeting with Soviet representatives.

The invitation was extended July 15 after the meeting of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and Acting British Foreign Secretary Lord Salisbury. Their proposed agenda for the Big Four meeting included discussions of the unification of Germany and an Austrian peace treaty.

* * *

THE EDITORIAL said the proposed agenda showed the Big Three wanted "to utilize this four power conference for purposes which have nothing to do with interests furthering peace or with the tasks of reducing international tensions."

It said the Western foreign ministers in their Washington meeting failed to advance "any single one of the burning problems of inter-national relations."

Morton Gets Senators' OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate judiciary subcommittee Thursday approved the nomination of Perry William Morton of Lincoln, Neb., to be assistant attorney general.

Morton, 45-year-old lawyer, would be in charge of the justice department's lands division.

Sen. Griswold (R-Neb) recommended Morton. The senator said Morton has "a fine reputation in Nebraska both as to character and ability and is recognized as perhaps the finest title attorney in Nebraska."

Chairman Langer (R-ND) informed the committee that Sen. Butler (R-Neb) also supported Morton's nomination.

Morton told the senators he was admitted to the Nebraska bar in 1931 and engaged in general practice for four years. Since 1935 and until a year ago he was attorney for a life insurance company's Nebraska office and served also as its assistant manager. For the last year he has practiced law.

Langer told a reporter there was no opposition to Morton and that he expected the full Judiciary Committee to recommend confirmation by the Senate of his nomination.

Girl Is Placed On Probation

Lancaster District Judge John L. Polk has placed an 18-year-old Beatrice girl on probation for two years for abandoning a dead human body.

The girl, Valaria A. Duensing, told authorities that the body of a baby found in the closet of her apartment here last week was stillborn to her July 8.

She pleaded guilty to the abandonment charge.

Judge Polk pointed out that investigation showed that the child was born prematurely.

Enemy's Big Guns Unleash Barrage; Attack Launched

ROKS Give Four Hills To Chinese

SEOUL (UP)—Communist big guns unleashed a tremendous barrage on the Western Front early Friday and Chinese infantry launched moonlight attacks on both the Western and Central fronts.

An Eighth Army officer said an "undetermined" number of enemy troops followed up the barrage and were attacking Westview Hill between Porkchop Hill and Old Baldy in the West.

Chinese slammed into a hill northeast of Kumhwa on the Central Front before midnight and South Korean defenders withdrew from three outposts in the area under the mounting enemy pressure.

Allied artillery boomed in answer to the Red attacks on both fronts.

* * *

COMMUNIST TROOPS seized hills Thursday, including vital Sam Hwon Hill for the ninth time, and continued the first major fighting in two days into the night.

At least one Chinese battalion was spotted moving up to support the Central Front attacks made in moonlight. Most of the Allied artillery fire was directed to the northeast side of the road between Kumsong and Kumhwa.

Red troops captured their third hill of the day Thursday night in a flare-lit assault on an unnamed peak five miles northeast of Kumhwa.

North of Sam Hyon, Allied air and ground observers reported sighting Chinese troops. Allied big guns shelled two seperate Red battalions massing north of the battle line, plus a consentration of about 40 Red trucks and six tanks.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, commander of the U.S. 8th Army, toured the critical Central front with South Korean President Syngman Rhee. He told commanders of the two Allied forces holding the Kumsong line—the U.S. 9th Corps and ROK 2nd Corps—the mighty Red offensive has been repulsed and the Allies now occupy "the shortest and most defensible line consistent with their mission in this area."

Allied fighter-bombers dropped more than 300 tons of bombs on Red front-line positions.

State PMA Committee Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Griswold and Butler of Nebraska said they have recommended men for appointment as the state's Production and Marketing Administration committeemen.

They declined to make public the names of those they have recommended.

"I have nothing to do with the appointments," Butler told a reporter. "I just recommended some people and the Agriculture Department checks on them and determines whether they want them or which ones they want."

Griswold said about the same.

An Agriculture Department spokesman declined comment except to say that changes have been made in the PMA setup in other states and it was reasonable to assume that changes might be made in Nebraska.

The PMA committeemen are farmers who work with the Agriculture Department and advise it on farming problems affecting their states.

Uranium Mines Site Of Uprising

Slave Labor Of Reds Revolts

BERLIN (UP) — German Communist military units have been rushed to the uranium mines in Saxony to crush a new anti-Communist uprising, the German-language newspaper of the U.S. High Commission said.

Neue Zeitung said "serious clashes" had taken place between miners and police over the week end. The newspaper gave no casualty figures.

Several units of the paramilitary "Barracks Peoples Police" were sent to the uranium mine area, near the Czech border, presumably after the miners overpowered local police, it said.

* * *

TWO HUNDRED miners were arrested for "rebellion" and "inciting to provocations," the newspaper claimed.

Neue Zeitung said the rioting began when workers demanded the release of 1,200 of their comrades arrested in the June 17 revolt.

Many of the workers in the uranium mines are reported to be slave-labor political prisoners.

* * *

WEST BERLIN police reported six German Communist police armed with submachine guns crossed into the American sector near Potsdamer Platz and attempted to kidnap two West Berlin border police. A riot squad of 20 West Berlin policemen rushed to the scene and chased the Red police back across the border.

Meanwhile, there were reports of continuing raids by secret police to round up strike leaders and anti-Communist suspects in connection with the Red regime's orders to crush resistance in East Germany.

Red Radio Optimistic On Signing

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Persistent reports that a Korean truce might be signed within 72 hours gained strength Friday from a North Korean broadcast hinting broadly that the armistice document was complete and that the Reds were ready to approve it formally.

While the reports of an imminent signing lacked official confirmation from either side, the Red radio at Pyongyang, in a notably cheerful tone of voice, said that "as long as the United States does not deliberately interfere with the truce effort, there is no mistake about the establishment of an armistice in Korea."

The Pyongyang broadcast late Thursday night went on to warn that "we cannot remain complacent" and to charge South Korean President Syngman Rhee with "one last, desperate effort to block the armistice."

* * *

IT SAID THAT "if the United States refuses to take action against these truce obstruction actions of South Korea, there is no telling when another untoward incident might break out again."

Only the final approval of the governments concerned is said to be needed before the formal signing takes place.

United States Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs called on South Korean President Syngman Rhee and bluntly warned him that there will be no further United States concessions to his objections to the armistice terms.

* * *

THIS LEFT THE final decision on signing the agreement ending the war up to the Reds. The U.N. is prepared to make the agreement official. The Reds, however, have not formally reacted to Rhee's latest threat to bolt the agreement unless 1 million Chinese troops are withdrawn from Korea 90 days after a political conference on Korean unity begins.

During the conference Briggs told Rhee and Pyun the United States certainly had been generous as anybody could expect.

These sources said all that is needed now is a meeting of the full delegations for ratification of the armistice terms and setting the date for the elaborate signing ceremony at Panmunjom.

* * *

RHEE'S OFFICIAL spokesman predicted differences between South Korea and the United States "should be successfully cleared up very soon."

Shortly afterward, Prime Minister Too Chin Paik charged that the United States had threatened to cut off economic aid to South Korea if it did not agree with the United States on an armistice.

Crowd of 3,000 Sees Tractor Field Day

More than 3,000 farmers from all parts of the Mid-West attended the morning session of the Tractor Field Day at the College of Agriculture Thursday.

Highlight of the morning program was the contest of tractor fuels, in which three tractors, all the same make and model and pulling the same course, competed to see which fuel would provide the most pounds pull per gallon.

One tractor was burning a gallon of gasoline, one a gallon of diesel fuel and one a gallon of propane.

The tractor burning the propane fuel stopped first in the timed tests. Next came the tractor burning gasoline, which ran about one and one-fourth times as long as the one with propane. The diesel burning tractor provided the most pounds pull per gallon, running one and eight-tenths as long as the tractor burning propane.

Another demonstration showed there was 42 per cent more slippage of 2 tractor's wheels when a tandem disk is attached than when it is pulling no weight. With 700 pounds of wheel weights added slippage was cut to 11.5 per cent.

J. W. Shields of the United States Rubber Company, who spoke on tractor tires, wheel weights and slippage, told the farmers attending that under most circumstances the ideal situation for tractor tires is to fill them one-half full of liquid, and then add sufficient wheel weights to provide the necessary weight to reduce the slippage to a minimum.

Also demonstrated were belt horsepower tests and drawbar horsepower testing equipment.

Scheduled for the afternoon were a safety demonstration in which tractors were to be upset, a parade of new tractors tested recently at the Tractor Testing Laboratory and a discussion on how extra power and economy can be obtained from tractors by proper maintenance.

Business Assessment Here High, Davis Says

Releases Figures Answering Critics in Outstate Counties

Lancaster County Assessor Arthur Davis has released figures he compiled last spring which show that business assessments here are higher than the state average in most individual categories

Answering outstate assessors who contend that Lancaster and Douglas County business assessments were low in 1952, Davis said that critics making complaints before the State Board of Equalization mentioned only those categories in which Lancaster County was down.

* * *

"ACTUALLY, we were higher than the state average in 38 types of businesses, below in 17, and right on the average for three," Davis explained.

Businesses also differ from a large place to a small one, Davis continued For instance, grocery stores — one of the categories criticized — probably average lower here because Lancaster County has so many small neighborhood stores a small town wouldn't have

Fluctuation in the number of some types of businesses as shown on the abstract of assessment for 1952 and 1953 is probably because too many businesses are listed under "miscellaneous business" and because the categories overlap, Davis said

* * *

A DECLINE in "machine shop" average from $39,823 to $5,193 undoubtedly happened because some shops were listed this year as "manufacturers," a category that increased, he pointed out

"And the 'missing' liquor license dealers (34 licenses issued, 31 dealers listed under liquor stores) is because the other three were considered as combination grocery stores or the like," Davis said

Next year, the assessor said he intends to keep a closer check on business listings in order to have accurate averages for combination purposes

* * *

ONE RATHER humorous mislisting occurred last year when a local candy maker was tabulated under the "sugar manufacturer" heading

"Lancaster County has no sugar manufacturer," Davis said in answer to puzzled questioners

A comparison of Lancaster and Douglas County business categories with the state average is shown below The figures, compiled by Davis last spring were "solely for the purpose of showing our own business assessors where we were weak so individual businesses could be brought up to the average if they were low," Davis explained

Polio Incidence Lower Than '52

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U S Public Health Service said 1,262 polio cases were reported last week as compared to 1,390 in the corresponding week of last year

The 1,262 cases represented a 33 per cent increase over the 949 cases reported in the preceding week

The total number of cases reported in the 'disease year' beginning about April 1 is now 5,373 compared to 5 415 in the same period of 1952

Approximately a third of the supply of gamma globulin expected to be available for mass inoculation use against paralytic polio this year has already been distributed, it was announced

Milford Home Auction Slated On Aug. 7

Buildings and land of the former Milford Home for Unwed Mothers will be up for sale on Friday Aug 7

State Surveyor Hugh Dillon said the auction—at the home one mile east of Milford at 10 a m—will be to sell the entire property undivided

However, the 23 acres of farm land may be sold seperately if necessary, Dillon said The entire property comprises 37 95 acres

Sale will be conducted by Dillon and John Kleckner and Bob Hiatt, land appraisers for the Board of Educational Lands and Funds Terms will be 15 per cent down and the rest upon delivery of the deed

The home was abolished by the 1953 Legislature and closed down on June 30 The Legislature ordered that the property be sold

Dillon said at least two "nibbles" have already been received from interested parties

The property includes a hospital building, worth $50 000 alone, according to Dillon

Also there is an older administration building, a four-stall garage, and a water supply and storage, electric and gas service, and a coal heating plant

Chamber Plan For Industrial Tract 'Normal'

Lincoln's Chamber of Commerce followed a practice in operation "all over the United States" when it acquired a four-block tract in northeast Lincoln for industrial purposes

Wayne Dawson, industrial manager of the chamber, said the 11-acre tract was acquired "for the protection of light industries" attempting to locate in Lincoln.

Some opposition arose this week to the re-zoning of one block of the ground to industrial A classification Some residents in the area held housing should come first

Dawson indicated that the ground is an industrial area with industries on three sides He added that the industry to be located on the first of the four blocks is "not a heavy industry" It will be KEM, Inc, manufacturer of dies and plastics

The industrial manager said the head of the new industry plans to make part of a new building his living quarters for a time

Dawson said the policy of getting ground for industrial expansion is now being followed by Chambers of Commerce all over the nation

September State Draft Quota 255

Nebraska's September draft quota is 255 men based on a national call for 23,000 for Army duty, Brig. Gen. Guy N. Henninger, state selective service director, said.

Henninger said the September figure compares with 268 for August and 340 this month.

The general said there has been no great difficulty recently in Nebraska meeting its quotas.

County Budget Requests Mostly Routine

New Elevator Seems Only Extraordinary Money Item

By MARJORIE MARLETTE
Journal Courthouse Reporter

A new elevator seems to be the one extraordinary item for which money is included in the requested Lancaster County budget. And a decision on whether to install one is yet to be made.

Otherwise, county officials have drawn up rather routine budget requests this year, generally asking more money, as usual, but only for new equipment, supplies and salary increases

Whether they get what they want will be up to the commissioners, who next week begin hearings with individual department heads to determine the the final appropriations

* * *

NO GENERAL wage boost seems likely, though there may be a good deal of salary "adjustments" on specific jobs.

The elevator is estimated to cost about $25,000 — the exact amount requested in the building repair fund more than last year's $20,000.

Because of increased criminal and civil work and more county jail inmates, Sheriff Merle Karnopp has asked about $10,000 more in his sheriff and jail budgets for the coming year over 1952-53 And added jury costs, etc, have brought about a $10,000 increase in the District Court estimate

The county attorney's office has requested about $9,000 more, mostly for its expanding tax department, and an added $11,500 has been asked for the soldiers and sailors relief fund.

* * *

DECREASES of $53,000 and $28,300 were estimated for the Tax Appraisal Board and the Election Commissioners office respectively, accounting in large part for the low budget request total this year

Altogether, offices paid for out of the general fund wanted $863,153 — only $10,000 more than last year's appropriations.

The relief fund, levied separately, is estimated at about $80,000 less this year than last because all over-ceiling medical payments—25 per cent of which formerly came out of the relief budget—are now being included in a separate levy

Menotti First Opera Given Fine Performance at Union

By HELEN MARY HAYES
Journal Staff Writer

Townsfolk who joined the summer student audience for a professional performance of "The Old Maid and the Thief" at the Student Union enjoyed the most delightful operatic evenings presented in Lincoln for a long time The four talented young people — five, counting the pianist who both directed and accompanied — were members of the Comic Opera Players of New York, and there wasn't an amateur among them The whole thing went off with such snap and verve as only professionals can supply consistently, and would have been enjoyable whatever the vehicle happened to be

* * *

IN THIS INSTANCE it was Gian-Carlo Menotti's first opera, dealing with a spinster her fetching housemaid, a woman friend, and a happy-go-lucky vagrant who charms all the women and leads some of them into surprising measures aimed at keeping him from leaving, though they believe him to be a fugitive burglar known to be at large in the vicinity

Madeleine Vose played Miss Todd, the ultra-respectable old maid who is finally reduced to burglary, with the connivance of her maid Letitia — little beauty with an excellent voice admirably trained — played by Virginia Copeland Alfred Medinets as the footloose young man —(but no thief)—who unknowingly captures both their hearts, gave a superlative performance, while Geraldine Leslie was excellent as a neighbor, Miss Pinkerton, doing her best to keep her friend out of trouble and ruined Virginia Copeland in her variety was one of scores of epigrams tossed off by the composer, who also wrote the libretto

* * *

AFTER THE OPERA the cast appeared in their own persons —revealing the old maid as a very attractive young girl — and gave a brief concert of Gershwin and Rodgers songs An air from the Offenbach opera "Perigord" was sung by Miss Leslie and "Seguidilla" from Carmen by Miss Vose Musical Director David Shapiro was called to the stage to take bows with the singers This final entertainment provided for the summer session by the Student Union turned out to be very nearly the most important musical event of the year

Aerial Ladder Truck Bids To City Hall

Bids were again received at the City Hall on an aerial ladder truck, with tank, for the new Northeast fire station.

At the initial opening, only American - LaFrance - Foamite Corp bid Specifications, since broadened, were then written in line with what the department desires.

Three firms bid at the second opening LaFrance bid $37,772, with alternate of $38,672, on the 100-foot ladder type with auxiliary equipment at $3,317 and an alternate of $3,677 If all desired items are included, this would bring the overall to $42,349, about $200 under the original bid, due to price fluctuations

The Seagrave Corp bid on an 85-foot ladder type, $38,670, including auxiliaries On the 85-foot LaFrance bid $35 995 plus $3,317 for auxiliary equipment or $39,312, also an alternate bid of $36,895 plus $3,677 or $40,572 Seagrave did not bid on the 100-foot type

Highway Equipment & Supply Co bid $36,900 on tractor-drawn equipment without pump, 85-foot ladder LaFrance bid $33,995

Senators Surprised at Seaton Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Griswold and Butler, Nebraska Republicans, expressed surprise at a published report that former Sen Fred Seaton may seek Griswold's Senate seat next year.

Griswold told a reporter

"First I heard of it was a few minutes ago when I got a phone call from a friend in Nebraska who said he had read the story. I have no comment."

Seaton, publisher of the Hastings Tribune, was named by former Gov. Val Peterson to succeed the late Sen Kenneth Wherry in 1951 Seaton did not seek the nomination last year for the remaining two years of Wherry's term and Griswold was elected

Butler said,

"I know nothing about it and I have no comment"

Griswold is finishing out the last two years of Wherry's term. Nebraskans will vote next year on candidates for a full six-year Senate term.

Gov. Robert Crosby said he had "no personal knowledge" of reports that Seaton may run for the United States Senate next year.

He said he had "no comment" to make

Seaton was unavailable for comment, as he was reported to be out of Hastings.

Rhee Misunderstood 'Time Limits'

American Assurances Exhausted

By PETER LISAGOR
Lincoln Journal-Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — American officials have just about exhausted the assurances and reassurances to ROK President Syngman Rhee.

Lisagor

They now hope with a desperate anxiety, that the defiant South Korean leader will abide by his written guarantee not to obstruct a truce.

Secretary of State Dulles took the unusual step of reminding Rhee that he, Rhee had put in writing to President Eisenhower on July 11 his assurance not to torpedo the works at the last moment.

* * *

ALTHOUGH DULLES virtually pleaded with Rhee to honor the truce terms, he omitted from his statement any reference to the point on which Rhee apparently is at odds with Washington.

That is the question of "time limit" on the armistice.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, the senior Communist delegate at Panmunjom, stressed in he detailed account of what the Reds understood from the U.N. command that there was no time limit to an armistice.

Rhee seems to believe that the understanding between him and Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson contained a deadline of some sort.

* * *

DULLES HAS STATED, on several occasions, that the United States does not intend to get bogged down in endless bickering with the Reds at a political conference. He has suggested that if the Communists should turn the conference into a sham, the United States would walk out.

As it is understood here, Rhee has been assured that the United States would call a halt in the political negotiations at the end of 90 days of the Reds should show evidence of bad faith, and would consult with the South Koreans on how then to proceed toward the common objective of unifying Korea.

LOTS OF HELP—North Korean laborers swarm over the modern building nearing completion at Panmunjom where the signing of the armistice agreement is expected to take place soon. Construction has been under way day and night. (AP Wirephoto.)

NATO Games Rile Russians

LONDON (AP) — Charges that Western naval maneuvers in the Mediterranean are menacing rather than defensive were made by the Soviet radio.

Moscow Radio quoted a Capt. Alexeyev who said the maneuvers of Atlantic Pact naval craft in the Mediterranean ranged from practice coastal landings to attacks on industrial and military centers, and close support of troops operating on the coast.

The nature of the maneuvers, the captain said, "convincingly proves" that NATO countries under U.S. leadership are "not preparing for the solution of defensive porblems."

Whole Outfit Incriminating

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — A San Franciscan said it wasn't ingratitude that made him turn down a request for a reward when a stranger came to his door and returned a missing war bond.

The owner told Judge Herman Van Der Zee that the stranger handed him a bond, which was stolen in a robbery, and said "I sort of hoped there'd be a little reward."

"I figured he must have had something to do with the robbery," the complainant said. "He was wearing my suede jacket, my shirt and carrying my plastic raincoat."

Three inches of rain flooded the streets at almost the same time—and then baby Flood arrived.

Bing Sells Nags To Pay Taxes

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UP)—Bing Crosby has put his 65 race horses up for sale to help pay a million dollar inheritance tax on his late wife's share of the Crosby fortune.

The crooner's brother, Larry Crosby, announced the move, saying the star also has put his Holmby Hills mansion in West Los Angeles and his Pebble Beach, Calif., home on the block.

The singer already has sold some stocks "and may have to sell some cattle" from his Elko, Nev., ranch to meet the government tariff, his brother said.

Nothing Compares to its Tempting Wonderful Flavor and Every Day FRESHNESS!

Naturally a living room is no place to stack dishes. But this specially posed photograph shows how dishes can get in the way of things you enjoy—and the number of dishes shown here is about the weekly average for a family of four. Dishwashing is a big job!

Let this can help get your dishes out of the way!

For fast, efficient dishwashing—with or without wiping—no washing powder can touch this new Lux Liquid Detergent. One canful will wash more dishes than several boxes of the most popular laundry powder. And thrifty Lux Liquid is almost as mild on your hands as Lux Toilet Soap.

Packed in a can as it should be—with a dripless spout

Won't break like a bottle. Won't get soggy or take up room like a box. And the dripless spout keeps the liquid from dripping down the side of the can.

Women tell us that washing dishes with new Lux Liquid Detergent makes even sticky pots and pans seem less of a chore.

This can in your kitchen is the next best thing to a dishwashing machine.

And no wonder! Lux Liquid is designed especially for dishwashing—not for doing Monday's wash. It gets the job done quickly because it soaks the dishes clean. Gets between the clinging grease and the dish. Dissolves the grease.

Just a few drops wash the dishes. One dishwashing will show you how little you have to use.

Now on top of being fast, thorough and thrifty, this new Lux Liquid Detergent is mild. It's almost as mild as Lux Toilet Soap—imagine that! Lux Liquid smells nice, too, and never makes you sneeze.

You get a Lever Brothers guarantee, of course. You can have your money back if you aren't pleased with the quick, shining results. But we honestly think you'll love it!

Sunday School Lesson

Christians Serve Church To Help World

"The Sunday School Lesson for July 20, 1952, is "Growing in Christ." Ephesians 4:1-6, 11-16.

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

One World! We hear a great deal about it today. We are all for it. No matter what our politics, our religion, our race, we on this North American continent are committed—for better or for worse—to the concept of international machinery operating for the benefit of all the peoples of the world

It is a cliche to remark that the world is no better than the people who make up its populations But expressions become their truth is universally recognized.

* * *

Great Factor of Peace

The Christian Church has been, undoubtedly, the greatest of all factors in promoting world peace. It alone is concerned primarily with the spiritual qualities of mankind It shapes character, fixes sure standards in a changing world, and keeps people aware of their present duty and immortal destiny

Most organizations are exclusive not so the Church Doubtless some local congregations — through their number is far less than critics would imply—are snobbish in their social attitudes But they cannot exclude the poor from their fellowship unless they would first exclude Christ, for the Church is His.

In the Lesson this week, says that Christians are "called" to their helpful service This does not mean supernatural revelation amid the light of heavenly vision Most people take up church work because some very prosaic and mundane circumtance leads them to do so But behind the circumstance is God

* * *

Many Ways of Serving

Paul insisted on unity in the Church By this he does not mean mere organizational unity, but spiritual unity Where the spirit of Christ is, there is His Church, where it is not, the true Church does not exist no matter what its outer trappings may be Christ and His true Church are one

Regarding the duties of Christians Paul is so simple and forthright in what he sets forth that even persons of the humblest mentality can understand him

* * *

Simple Service Best

The great majority of believers serve God by doing the routine work which the Church needs to have done to keep going and to keep healthy

Life is made up of a lot of little things—Church life as well as the life of home, business, and world.

There is something you can do to serve the Church Maybe you have never found out what it is Could it be that you have not tried any too hard?

This will do world unity more good than reading or writing books about the UN The king, the president, the statesman, the lofty educator may not be able to make as substantial a contribution to world unity and peace as you can

But you'll never know what you can do until you try

Editorial Comment and Opinion

Prosperity Strongly Based

The popular belief, approaching the status of a superstition, that the nation couldn't stay rich except by virtue of immense government spending, for defense and similar purposes, has been taking a beating. Analysts, news weeklies, the business press, have been chipping away at this false premise for many months. This week they got powerful confirmation in a report from the Department of Commerce.

It shows that on the whole the country has continued prosperous, with new highs being set throughout the second quarter of 1953 in production, consumption and investment. Wage and salary incomes showed an annual rate of about $15 billion above those of the same period last year. Except for sliding farm prices, drought effects in some areas, and a moderate decline in residential building (it had been abnormally high) the outlook was increasingly reassuring.

Yet throughout the quarter, and the one before it, substantial reductions in government spending for defense and other purposes had been anticipated. This had been a pledge of last year's campaign, and both Congress and the administration were moving toward it. Uninterrupted improvement suggests that there was something wrong about the federal-spending-for-defense theory. The key to well-being is still to be found in industry, in the enterprise and the increasing demands of a growing population. This fact is being driven home today, obviously and indisputably.

A MOMENT'S THOUGHT

Romans 14: 8

For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

—Selected by Rev. Lloyd E. Watt, Christ Methodist Church

Chance to Drop Tiger's Tail

Of all the reasons why Moscow might or might not accept the invitation to a four-power conference of foreign ministers this fall, the latest to be suggested is still in the discussion stage at Washington. A Christian Science Monitor man picked it up there and buried it in the middle of a list of pro's and con's. Here is the gist of it, advanced as a reason why the Russians might be happy to send a man:

Moscow could conceivably decide to participate because this would offer an opportunity to end its unprofitable (at long last) occupation of East Germany. The Russians are by way of having a tiger by the tail, and might have to decide soon whether it would be more dangerous to let go than to hang on. It isn't only that Moscow has found East Germany indigestible, and more so every day since the revolt in mid-June. Berlin is a constant source of worry to the Soviets, because it is in fact a window in the Iron Curtain. Through this window the world can see some of the constant harassment of the conquerors. And what they see makes hay of the Kremlin's build-up of the Soviet Union as a workers' paradise.

To do Russia a favor by taking her off the hook in Germany is at first glance a fantastic proposition indeed. Should it be dismissed as wholly wishful thinking, however, there remain other considerations. It would be hard for Moscow to refuse to talk peace and a German settlement, after posing so long and loudly as the champion of a reunited Germany and a defender of peace. Its presence at the table would make immensely valuable propaganda. At the lowest level it could accept in the hope of being able to delay Western action on European defense, a favorite theme in the Kremlin.

If Moscow decides to say no, it can still make the answer look like yes. By insisting on a meeting at the chiefs-of-state level, for instance, or holding to its demand for a September meeting, it could put Washington on a spot. We couldn't go into such talks before the German elections of Sept. 6 because these might change the picture considerably. And we are dead set against a top level meeting until the Kremlin can show some deeds to prove its good faith. The final measure of realism in Russia's course will be the first clue to how serious her internal troubles have proven.

One Editor's Tribulations

From the McCook Daily Gazette

The Daily Worker, Communist newspaper published in the U.S. with our tolerant permission because of our oft-strained free press tradition, the other day quoted verbatim a news story in another paper about an Ohio professor who had fasted 12 days in protest over the execution of "the atom spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg." The Daily Worker next day apologized for printing this clipping from "the capitalist press," and hastened to repeat that the Rosenbergs were not spies at all, but martyrs.

Communist writers and editors must have a hard time, indeed, finding or manufacturing things to print which indicate America has gone to seed, that democracy is a complete fizzle, that Mother Russia is a bed of roses, that under Communism everybody prospers, that treason by Americans is martyrdom but treachery in Russia is beloved service to the state. Editing a newspaper from the daily flood of factual news dispatches is hard enough. . . . Surely editing one propaganda known to be fallacious must be soul-trying, indeed . . . even for a Red.

Joseph Alsop

Air Defense of American Continent

WASHINGTON — Last week the President's appointment schedule was quietly revised to conceal a significant fact. By the President's order and under his leadership, the National Security Council held an all-day meeting.

Joseph Alsop

Since the morrow of Pearl Harbor, no single problem has ever engaged the continuous, combined attention of all the heads of the American government throughout a working day. Yet the subject of last week's unprecedented meeting of our highest policy making organ was not the Korean truce, or the power contest in Moscow, or any other topic of current discussion. The subject was the air defense of the American continent.

Despite the very special consideration given to the problem, it is not clear that any conclusions were reached. Most probably, the administration will want the views of the new Joint Chiefs of Staff before taking its decision about air defense policy. But the mere fact of the recent Security Council meeting rather clearly implies that the administration is increasingly worried about the increasing air-atomic striking power of the Soviet Union.

This is not a distant danger, if the official estimates are not misleading. One of the reports that have been presented to the Security Council actually credits the Kremlin with the power to destroy just under 40 per cent of the American industrial potential, and to cause the death of about 13,000,000 Americans. Any such estimate of current Kremlin capabilities is of course highly debatable. But the signs are plain, nonetheless, that a major turning point in American policy is now approaching.

* * *

Unpleasant Direction

The approach has been made by stages, several of which have been revealed in this space. First there was the report of Project Lincoln, the remarkable scientific task force of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Then there was the Truman administration policy paper, NSC-141, which defined the air defense problem for President Eisenhower. Then there was the further report of a special committee of leading scientists and industrialists headed by Dr. Mervin J. Kelly, president of the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

All these successive papers pointed in the same unpleasant direction, toward the need for an urgent, costly effort to improve our air defenses. Finally, after receiving the report of the Kelly Committee, the Security Council named still another study group. This new group was headed by the President's war-time Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations, Gen. Harold Bull, who is now an official of the Central Intelligence Agency. The President and his Cabinet colleagues wanted "something from their own people," according to one explanation. Gen. Bull and his co-workers, who were recruited from the armed services and other interested agencies, presented their recommendations for action at last week's meeting of the Security Council.

It is hard to believe that fairly dramatic action will not be taken, simply because of the character of the potential threat. In the first place, the best estimates of Soviet atomic production now appear to have been revised upwards. Until rather recently, the British were talking of Soviet atomic bombs of the power of the bombs that fell on Hiroshima, while American estimates were given in bombs of 50 kilotons.

* * *

The Kremlin's Stockpile

It is now forecast, however, that the Kremlin will stockpile its 100th atomic bomb of 80 kiloton power during the current year. An 80 kiloton bomb has the explosive force of 80,000 tons of TNT, or four times the force of the Hiroshima bomb. One hundred such bombs is an impressive stockpile.

In the second place, the Kremlin's ability to deliver these bombs to American targets is not seriously questioned in any official quarter. All American targets can be reached by the thousand or more TU-4 bombers of the Soviet Strategic Air Army. It is considered that 500 of these planes can be sent against the United States in a single saturation attack. It is further known that the Soviet TU-4 squadrons have been equipped and trained for night flying and night bombing during the past two years.

Meanwhile, the strength of the American Air Defense Command has not kept pace with the growing threat. If an attack were delivered in broad daylight and good weather, it is thought that our defenders might knock down a maximum of 15 per cent of the attackers. But if an attack should be delivered by night, it is thought that the maximum rate of kill would be only one tenth of 1 per cent.

* * *

The Power to Hurt

With what amounts to a zero kill rate, an air-atomic saturation attack delivered by night should in theory unload the whole Soviet atomic stock on the chosen American targets. Such are the calculations behind the estimate that the Kremlin can now destroy nearly 40 per cent of our industry and take a toll of 13 megadeaths (which is top secret jargon for the death of 13,000,000 people).

An estimate close to this has already been made public by Sen. Stewart Symington, in his rather lonely fight for American preparedness. It can now be disclosed that the estimate comes from the authoritative report of the Kelly Committee.

Such an estimate cannot be lightly disregarded, when it comes from a group led by Dr. Kelly and including such scientists as Prof. Charles Lauritsen, and such industrialists as R. E. Wilson, of Standard Oil of Indiana. At the same time, it should not give rise to hysteria, either.

For one thing, the Kelly Committee was not equipped to "war-game" the problem, and careful war-gaming is essential if the results of complex air operations are to be accurately judged.

The British Cabinet recently directed a parallel study of the air-atomic threat to Britain. For this study, the damage estimates were carefully war-gamed. The result was a forecast that an all-out air-atomic attack on the British Isles would take a toll of 2,000,000 deaths. The figures are still fearful, but two megadeaths are much less than 13 megadeaths. And the British Isles are far more exposed than the United States.

Under realistic operating conditions, therefore, it seems likely that the Kremlin now has the power to hurt this country very badly, but not to cripple it. Unfortunately, however, the Kremlin's atomic stockpile and the strength of the Kremlin's Strategic Air Army are both still growing. The power to hurt this year can become the power to cripple next year and the power to destroy the year after. That is the real problem that the National Security Council has got to solve.

MORE OR LESS PERSONAL

— A Chat with the EDITOR —

(Mr. McConnell is on vacation. The following is another in a series of United Press analyses of the records of major federal departments in the first six months of the Eisenhower administration.)

* * *

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay has made only one major policy declaration, but has earned the reputation of being one of the most forthright men in President Eisenhower's cabinet.

* * *

He put the administration on record as favoring private development of power projects rather than public construction:

"We believe that private enterprise, wherever possible, should be allowed to develop water power projects, provided it does not interfere with the orderly development of our natural resources."

McKay and Interior

With that, McKay withdrew his department's opposition to the proposal before the Federal Power Commission of Idaho Power Co. to build a low dam on the Snake River between Idaho and Oregon, which he served as governor before coming to Washington.

McKay's predecessor, Oscar L. Chapman, fought the proposal on grounds it would prevent construction by the Reclamation Bureau of the huge Hells Canyon multi-purpose project a short distance away. Idaho Power later filed applications to build two more low dams on the Snake, and the FPC started hearings on the proposals July 7.

* * *

McKay has taken no action so far on public lands, an issue which land-users and conservationists are watching closely. There are some 272,000,000 acres of federal grazing lands, woods, deserts and parks, comprising about 16 per cent of the nation's total land.

All McKay has said so far is that there will be "some changes in policy" on public resources.

* * *

McKay was the first Eisenhower cabinet member to have a choice for a top department job withdrawn by the President because of Senate opposition. When Mr. Eisenhower nominated Tom Lyon to head the Bureau of Mines, McKay also became the first top-level member of the Republican administration to feel the wrath of John L. Lewis.

* * *

The United Mine Workers chief charged that McKay was "willing to have the blood of coal miners on his hands" by recommending the former high official of Anaconda Copper Mining Co. McKay ignored Lewis' blasts, but the Senate Interior Committee cut down Lyon quickly when he testified he

1 is receiving a revocable $5,000 annual pension from Anaconda and

2 opposes the Federal Mine Safety Law.

Mr. Eisenhower withdrew Lyon's nomination the next day.

* * *

McKay is having his budget troubles, too. He whittled former President Truman's recommendation for the Interior Department from $607,336,440 to $491,119,200 for fiscal 1954, but Congress wasn't satisfied.

* * *

The Senate cut it to $452,956,940, although adding $46,826,607 to the amount voted by the House. The final figure must be worked out by a conference committee.

Too High

CLYDE, Kan. — Wheat loans at $2.26 a bushel, corn priced at $1.62. Corn is priced too high for feed purposes so the landowners are selling off their hogs and cattle. First the meat and the butter were priced away from the mouths of the people and now the corn has been priced away from the mouths of the hogs and the cattle. The meat raisers are now demanding supports for meats, what for? This right on top of the fact that millions of people are forced to cut their meat and butter rations or not eat any butter and meat at all.

The newspapers are crying about how the land owners are losing money. This all bunk. The land owners have made big money since the 90 per cent parity and are quitting the farms and moving to the city. Why not? Does not the government give them the money to pay the hired men, so why work? "As I am moving to town I am going to have a sale at my farm," the local papers were full of that kind of advertising during the last half of the winter. These farmers have made big money, all in a few years and are taking their piles to the city. Nothing is being used for farm improvements. Buildings are depreciating, fences are old and fallen fences are seen everywhere. I have been a farmer and am not against some farm supports. I was one of the first ones here to join the Farm Bureau. My idea of farm supports is the same now as it always was. That is that all farm supports should be based on the need and no more. Support for wheat should not have been higher than $1.50 a bushel with a ceiling at $2.00 a bushel. Corn should have been at 75 cents a bushel with a ceiling at $1.00. The 90 per cent parity is based on the rich and is a political bonus given to the big landowners to make them landed lords. I believe that the surplus corn, much of it said to be spoiling, should be sold to the livestock feeders at a low price with the understanding that it must be fed to lower the cost of meats — no meat supports, ceilings instead. The 72 or more million pounds of butter should be let to the food stores to sell for 35 to 50 cents a pound retail. It would disappear like a puff. In a country like the United States all foods should be priced so that all people could eat, not just the rich.

Surprised

LINCOLN—I was very surprised to read in The Journal (July 20) that Yugoslavia receives $216,906,000 for military aid. This is a country under Communist rule. Are the people of America unaware that Communism is the same regardless of nationality language or any other barriers? In Korea Communism is being fought with men and guns, in the United States it is being fought by the means of investigations in order to expose and stamp it out, at the same time the American taxpayer is supporting the very same doctrines in Yugoslavia.

Members of U.N. Fighting Enemy While Trading

By H. I. PHILLIPS

(A Senate committee has found that many members of the United Nations have been carrying on a profitable trade with Red China ever since the war began, and that it is not only flourishing today but on the increase. It describes it as "the shocking policy of fighting an enemy on one hand and doing business with him on the other.")

Through glistening halls the statesmen swarm
To meetings by the score
To fighting Communism, while
They help it win the war!
Their noble words ring through the day,
But while their soldiers die
There's trading with the enemy
For profits swift and high

II

Their votes sent young men into war—
Their speeches they were long—
But ships of theirs plow through the seas
To keep the Commies strong;
The G I's die on bloody hills
To keep the faith the while
The enemy is strengthened by
A hunt for profits vile.

III

What kind of men send lads to die
Upon some barren peak
While they go over hooks and ask,
"What did we make this week?"
Oh, point them out, and one by one,
For all the world to see
The traders with the killers of
The boys who keep us free!

IV

There's slaughter on Korean slopes,
Yet U N. members know
It's "Business, boys, as usual!",
With ethics extra low!
Oh, speakers garrulous and shrill,
Pause—just to catch your breath—
And ask, "Is this a temple, or
A Bargain House of Death?"

Soybean Offer Changed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has withdrawn an offer to sell a government owned surplus stock of soybeans at less than the current farm price support rate which averages $2.56 a bushel.

The department substituted an offer placing about 3½ million bushels on sale at the market price, but not at less than the current suport price.

Inside Report on the Soviet

Life in Russia Under the Cold War

(Eddy Gilmore, for 11 years an AP correspondent in Moscow, is back on "the right side of the Iron Curtain," as he expresses it. In this story, third of a series to appear here this week, Gilmore gives a glimpse into Moscow life as foreigners used to live it, and as they have lived it since the cold war developed.—Editor.)

* * *

By EDDIE GILMORE

PARIS (AP)—The cold war started, and a frigid wind began to blow from Joseph Stalin's Kremlin, cooling off any faint hope of American-Soviet co-operation and growing friendship. The air from Washington wasn't exactly warm, either.

Eddy Gilmore

It would be incorrect to say that Americans in Moscow, even during the greatest moment of wartime pal talk, were ever howlingly popular with the Communist government. But we were with the people and compared to what happened later, we led a charmed life.

I left an official party at 2:20 one morning, arm in arm with a man who is now a marshal in the Soviet army. With other Russians and foreigners from some of the embassies, we journeyed to my apartment.

* * *

THIS HIGH MILITARY MAN, once inside my modest place, lit the candles, turned down the lights and sat down at the piano and played until dawn. It all seemed not very unusual then.

Another time I found myself at a big Russian dinner. More than 60 persons at one long table. I seemed to be the only foreigner present.

"Eddy Eddyovich," said my host, "I've found something for you."

He proudly whipped out a bottle of Scotch.

A little dark man near me, who looked like a party type, shuddered. He looked around him with what I thought was considerable suspicion, and turned to a major general in the Soviet army.

"Comrade general," said the party type, "Scotch whisky Shetlandsky viskey was the way he said it in Russian may be all right for some people, but I prefer our Russian vodka, don't you?"

The general, who had a stout hooker of Shetlandsky viskey in his right hand, gave him a cold eye.

"No," he said, "I'm not that chauvinistic."

* * *

YOU INVITED RUSSIANS to your apartment and some of them came. Some of them invited you to their places. You found yourself at real Russian parties that must not have changed over the years.

You liked the people and they seemed to like you.

I'm not referring to the small group of Russians who had been approved for contact with foreigners. They were always about, polite, often charming, good conversationalists, but nevertheless, people we felt were unduly interested in what we were saying and commenting on. I'm referring to just plain Russians, and some who were anything but plain. But not approved people.

* * *

FOREIGNERS COULD TRAVEL into the countryside in all directions from Moscow, and while it isn't exactly the French Riviera, it offered some good swimming spots which were especially nice after parties in summer.

And there were the Gypsies.

The best Russian parties, I believe, must have Gypsies. We had them back in those days.

Then one morning, after a very fine party, there was a "veliki skandal." A bad show. An incident.

A junior member of the American Embassy not on the diplomatic list was taking a Gypsy girl home in a taxi, I believe. He reported she resented his attention. She reported, and in the public press, that she resented his advances. The paper blamed American boorishness and a lack of respect for women.

Now I admire Gypsies almost as much as any people in the world and I've been around a few in my day. I think the American must have handled his case badly. Or that he was framed, because I've never heard of Gypsies writing in the paper about such private things.

* * *

THEN THERE WAS THE CASE of another young American whose automobile was rammed from behind by a Russian car. He got out and there was a large argument and when the Russian started to drive off, the American smashed in one of his side windows.

These were signs of the times.

The cold wind blew colder. No Gypsies at parties. Very few Russians at parties. Then no Russians at all at parties. Then no Russian friends.

* * *

TRAVEL RESTRICTIONS were clamped on all foreigners. The diplomatic rate of 12 rubles to a dollar was reduced to 8 to a dollar and then came the money reform and it was 4 to a dollar. This wasn't, and isn't today, an exchange rate. It borders on confiscation.

As the wife of a former American ambassador, Admiral Alan G. Kirk, so aptly put it—all the foreigners were thrown up on a raft together.

Some couldn't stand it.

One day a young attache at the embassy told the ambassador:

"They almost got me last night. They tried to push me out of the window." In a few days he was on his way home.

* * *

A NORWEGIAN shot himself one night. A young man from the British Embassy ran amok in the Metropole Hotel's dining room. He broke four chairs over various Russians, upset two tables, smashed dishes and got thrown into jail.

Two embassies found microphones on their premises. They didn't appear to be new ones, but they were rigged up with wires.

We talked in even softer whispers to one another. And people complained bitterly about life in Moscow. This thing that the Soviet authorities had brought on—this complete isolation of the foreigners—naturally created resentment among certain foreigners.

* * *

TO THE FEW RUSSIANS they had contact with, servants mostly, they could be very rude at times. And often in the presence of my wife a Russian we'd hear the phrase "These damn Russians." Or worse. But these were the exceptions. Most foreigners treated their servants with kindness no matter how cold the war got. And they were wonderful to my wife and the Russian wives of other foreigners who were certainly in a strange predicament.

They were Soviet citizens, yet Soviet citizens seldom, if ever, came to their apartments. A uniformed policeman stood by the front door of my apartment house, 24 hours a day, no matter the weather.

Even if any Russian had wanted to, he would have been turned away by the fellow in uniform, before he completed his visit to our apartment.

That's just a sampling of the cold war.

Tomorrow: Who's running Russia now?

Books Readers Like Best

A Strong Case for World Federation

Each week a survey is made among readers of the Saturday Review of Literature to find out what books they are reading, and which they like best. The following column, a weekly feature of The Lincoln Journal's editorial page, is based on the results of that poll.

Edited by WILLIAM D. PATTERSON
The Lincoln Journal-Saturday Review of Literature Book Service

It often seems too easy and natural, in these days of the atom bomb and cold war, to fear for the future. What is needed is an affirmative faith, based on an intelligent and courageous appraisal of the complex world around us, that mankind will not rest content with the invention of war, that the "human mind can also invent peace with justice."

Noramn Cousins

This is the spacious and eloquent argument that Norman Cousins advances in his latest book, "Who Speaks for Man?" That people have the heart and mind these days to respond to an argument for hope rather than despair is indicated by the fact that this book stood out last week on The Saturday Review's list of titles being most widely read and enjoyed throughout the country. Other best-readers were:

"The Stones of the House," by Theodore Morrison (Viking). This literate novel illuminates the times and tribulations of a university president.

"Charles Dickens," by Edgar Johnson (Simon & Schuster). A splendid biography of the "tragedy and triumph" of a great writer, both as artist and as a man.

"Kingfishers Catch Fire," by Rumer Godden (Viking). This absorbing novel of a white woman in India helps reveal East and West to each other.

"Annapurna," by Maurice Herzog (Dutton). The French alpinists who climbed the second-highest mountain in the Himalayas brought back a thrilling story of adventure, endurance and heroism.

"The High and the Mighty," by Ernest K. Gann (Sloane). The struggle of a crippled airliner over the Pacific to survive makes a gripping tale.

"The Caine Mutiny," by Herman Wouk (Doubleday). Many months after publication, this story of the Navy in the Pacific during World War II is still a best-seller and best-reader.

* * *

MR. COUSINS' BOOK is probably the single most powerful, documented and persuasive case that has been presented for achieving world federation through orderly, but bold and constructive, strengthening of the United Nations by way of the revision machinery provided in the Charter.

He does not flinch from the vast and intricate problems involved in establishing world government, but rather discusses them specifically, suggesting solutions, always against his overriding conviction that "the difficulty is dwarfed by the necessity."

This is a passionate book. It is an eloquent book. It is written with an unfailing interest in people and places, as well as ideas. It will do much to help any reader think freshly about the uncertain tomorrows stretching out ahead of all of us.

Anyone who feels he has embarked with the human race on a perilous, but hopeful voyage into the atomic future should read this book, and will therefore be a better companion on the long voyage.

Readers are invited to submit their inquiries on books. These will be answered for Journal readers by the editors of the Saturday Review of Literature. Address Books, Lincoln Journal.

Geneva Gets Multi-Million Dollar Oil Pipe Line Terminal

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Will Eliminate Tanker Haul From Kansas

By AL REMMENGA
Journal Staff Writer

GENEVA — A 32-acre plot of land two miles north of Geneva on U.S. Highway 81 will soon be the scene of one of central Nebraska's largest industries — a transport loading terminal at the northern end of a 246-mile oil pipe line originating in the southern Kansas oil fields.

The Kaneb Pipe Line Co., with home offices at El Dorado, Kan., is beginning construction on the Chester Chaney farm between Fairmont and Geneva.

Tentative plans indicate the huge terminal will operate on a 24-hour basis and serve several major oil companies. It will have truck and tanker loading facilities, thereby eliminating the long haul from the Kansas oil fields.

* * *

THE COMPANY, authorized to raise $25 million through bonds, has already issued $6,920,000 in bonds to finance construction of the pipe line and terminal.

Southernmost point touched by the pipe line will be Arkansas area. The Augusta Pipe Line of the Oklahoma border. The main Kaneb line of 203 miles of 10¾ inch pipe with 43 miles of eight-inch pipe will connect the refineries of Derby Oil Co., Socony-Vacuum, El Dorado Refining, Vickers Petroleum, National Co-operative Refinery and others in the southeastern Kansas area. he Augusta Pipe Line Company will extend 43 miles of pipe line from the Anderson-Prichard refinery at Arkansas City to Augusta, Kan., where it will tie in with the Kaneb line.

* * *

ALL MAJOR oil fields in the Wichita, El Dorado and Arkansas City areas will be tapped by the pipe line. The line, which is expected to be completed by the end of the year, will follow the east side of U.S. Highway 81 from Newton, Kan., to Geneva, Neb.

Engineering the construction at Geneva are R. H. Latham and Kenneth Olsen of Kansas City, Mo. They, with a small crew of workers, are surveying the area and laying plans for storage tank installation. Nichols Construction Company of Geneva, which may do some of the grading and graveling on the terminal site, has already constructed a temporary building on the farm for the use of the engineers.

* * *

A SITE NEAR Fairmont had been chosen for the terminal but the company was unable to purchase land there. The Kaneb Company, a Delaware Corporation, reportedly paid $250 per acre for the Chaney farm.

Howard Hamilton, a Geneva resident, said that he was told that plans for the terminal are "still in the tentative stage." Finished products and fuel oil will be stored at the terminal in eight tanks before being loaded on transports. Six automatic pumps will be able to fill four trucks simultaneously. Ralph Kinder, bookkeeper for the Nichols Company, estimated that one truck will be able to "be filed, be checked and on its way in 20 minutes after arriving."

Kinder said that moving of approximately 25,000 cubic yards of dirt and building of fire-walls between the tanks may cost upwards of $50,000. He was told that the pipe line should be completed within three months after construction is started.

* * *

THE EIGHT storage tanks will store 292,000 barrels of gas and oil. There will be four 50,000 barrel tanks, three 30,000 barrel tanks and one 2,000 barrel tank.

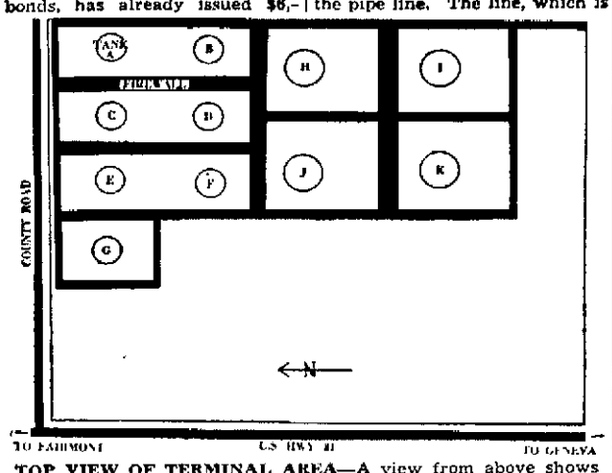

At least 15 men will be employed in addition to a probable four state employees who will be stationed at the site by the State Department of Agriculture which collects state gasoline taxes.

Charles M. Sutherland of Lincoln, publishing agent for about 20 common oil carriers, called the new terminal "a radical change in the origin of gasoline and oil products." He said the new terminal will serve an immediate area within a 150-mile radius of Geneva and points as far west as North Platte and north into North Dakota.

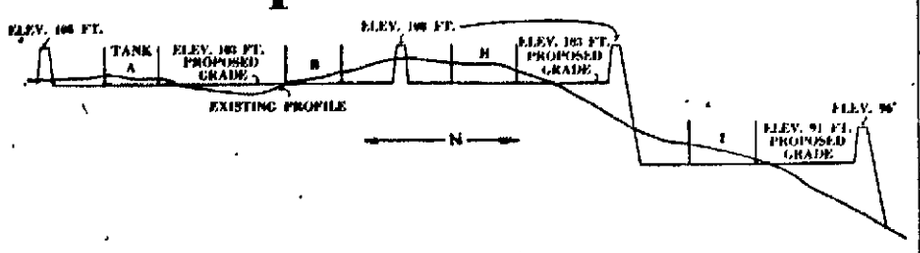

He pointed out that the new pipe line will change distributing practices "very much" but the price of oil products would remain about the same although truckers might loose some money because "they make more on long distance hauls."

* * *

BOTH LINCOLN and Omaha service station operators are within the 150-mile radius of Geneva and will be the two main areas using the facilities of the Geneva plant. Truckers from Lincoln will travel only 70 miles to the Geneva terminal and Omaha is located 130 miles from the northern end of the pipe line.

TOP VIEW OF TERMINAL AREA—A view from above shows how storage tanks will be set in fire guard depressions on the east side of the 32-acre plot north of Geneva. The field adjoins U.S. Highway 81.

PROFILE—This profile section shows how storage tanks will be set in depressions with fire guard walls around them. (Sketches Special to The Journal.)

Bad Drought Grips Dundy; Corn Burning

Special to The Journal

BENKELMAN—While much of Nebraska has received needed rains this week, the extreme southwestern corner is on the brink of a drought of major proportions.

Crops in portions of Dundy County—westernmost of the southern tier of counties— have reached a critical state, Extension Agent Leo Barnell reports. If the area fails to get a good general rain by Aug. 1, Barnell says, much of the corn in the county will be lost. About one-fourth of the corn is rolled up and burned badly now.

The county agent says that some farmers already have sold their livestock because of lack of feed. Others have sold all but their foundation herd, he adds.

The most serious problems among livestock men are with those having large areas of pastures and much stock, Barnell explains. Many pastures are dried up and some cane is badly burned.

Barnell points out that rains in the county this year have been extremely scattered, leaving some areas without moisture throughout the season.

Farther east, in the McCook area, rains early this week are credited with staving off a similar situation. Farmers there are of the opinion that another week without rain would have caused serious damage.

Valley Alluvia Festival To Crown King, Queen

VALLEY (AP)—A king and Queen will be crowned Thursday night in a gala windup of the annual Valley Alluvia celebration.

The coronation and a dance afterwards will take place under a big top in Valley Memorial Park.

Mrs. Uerkvitz New Postmaster

NEBRASKA CITY (AP)—Nellie Uerkvitz will become acting postmaster at Nebraska City, July 31, according to word received by Ray Frerichs, Republican county chairman from Rep. Roman Hruska (R-Neb).

Mrs. Uerkvitz, Otoe County register of deeds, was endorsed by the county committee at a recent meeting.

She succeeds acting Postmaster George Coupe, who had served since Feb. 1, 1952, following his selection as a successor to Arthur Barstler, who retired.

Two St. Paul Area Farmers Are Injured

ST. PAUL, Neb. (AP)—Two farmers injured in farm accidents were hospitalized here. Harlan Christensen, 21, of Greeley, suffered crushed vertebrae in a fall while stacking alfalfa.

Tom Trosper, 29 of Wolbach, received minor back injuries when a tractor upset.

Seward School Bands Give Special Concert

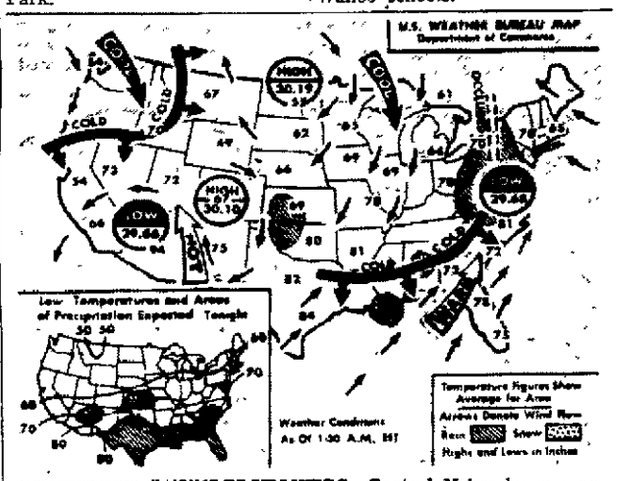

Special to The Journal

SEWARD—Two Seward City Schools bands will present a special concert at 7:45 p.m. Friday at the town's band shell.

Both bands will be directed by Seward High School Principal Earlyon J. Lamberty.

School Man Returns

EXETER—W. J. Ptacek, former superintendent of schools here, has been renamed to the post after engaging in business for two years. He succeeds Eugene Morrison who will head the Wahoo schools.

SCATTERED THUNDERSHOWERS—Central Nebraska can expect scattered thundershowers Thursday night and the east and central areas will continue to get showers Friday. Little change in temperature is expected. Elsewhere scattered thundershowers are predicted for the Gulf states and other central plains states. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

District Engineer Leaving Omaha

OMAHA (AP)—Col. Hubert S. Miller, Omaha District engineer for the last year, said he is being transferred to the Chief of Engineers' office in Washington, D.C.

Col. Miller said he had been advised he will be assigned as Assistant Chief of Engineers of Military Operations. He is scheduled to leave the latter part of August. His successor has not been announced.

Col. Miller came to Omaha as district engineer in August, 1952.

While Omaha District Engineer, Col. Miller was responsible for construction work on three main stem Missouri River dams, Ft. Randall, S.D.; Gavins Point on the Nebraska-South Dakota border and the Oahe near Pierre, S. D.

Padonia, Kan., Elevator Saved From Nearby Fire

Special to The Journal

PADONIA, Kan.—A fire near the Padonia Continental Grain Elevator threatened to destroy the town's only grain elevator.

Motorists noticed the blaze, which started from a burning cob pile, before the elevator caught fire and called the Hiawatha, Kan., fire department, which extinguished the blaze.

Former Nebraskan Once Matthews' Wife

OMAHA (AP)—Dr. J. B. Matthews, resigned executive director of the Senate Investigations Sub-committee, was married at one time to a former Bellevue, Neb., woman.

She is the former Ruth Shallcross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Shallcross.

Miss Shallcross, a 1929 University of Nebraska honor graduate, once collaborated with Matthews in writing a book, "Partners in Plunder," an expose of the "non-conspicuous progress of fascism in the country."

She married George Erskine Maynard of Geneva, O., in July, 1951.

Seward Buys Rescue Truck

Special to The Journal

SEWARD—The Seward City Council has accepted bids for two new city trucks.

The council approved the $3,458 bid of Rolfsmeier Motor Co., for a rescue squad truck to replace the 14-year-old vehicle now in service. The truck will be delivered in about 30 days.

The one-ton truck will provide space for at least four stretchers. An additional $500 will be spent for equipment.

Wallen Motor Co. was the successful bidder on a truck for the city light department. The company submitted a bid of $1,771 for a 1½-ton, six-cylinder truck.

Beatrice Youth Fined for Crash

Special to The Journal

BEATRICE — Kenneth Van Lanningham, 18, of Beatrice was fined $25 and costs in Police Court on a charge of reckless driving following an accident in which his auto was involved.

Five persons were reported to have received minor injuries in the two-auto collision.

'Q' Service Cut Plan Gets One Protest

Only one telephoned protest to the Burlington Railroad request to remove two train schedules between Lincoln and Columbus has been received by the State Railway Commission.

Wednesday was the deadline for protests. The caller was asked to submit her objections in writing, Marcus Poteet, commission secretary, said.

Meanwhile, the trains will continue to operate until the commission's permission is given. This decision will be based on whether the public is making sufficient use of the service to warrant keeping it, it was explained.

The railroad asked to take off the trains because the road is losing about $1,000 a month, it was reported. Instead, facilities for passengers, cream and express packages will be provided on daily freight trains on the Lincoln-Columbus branch line.

But this in no way implies that the United States already has committed itself to join Rhee in resuming the war or to support his independent efforts to carry on the fight at that stage, it is stated on good authority.

PTA Convention At Nebraska City

NEBRASKA CITY (AP)—The Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers will hold its 1954 convention here, Mrs. R. E. Dooley of Fremont, state publicity chairman, announced.

Senator Defends Unicameral

Contending that the present Nebraska legislative system makes "each member face responsibility squarely on each measure," Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City has come to the defense of the non-partisan one-house principle.

In a letter to the newspapers in his district, Bridenbaugh said, "I want to be counted as one of those who are in favor of our present non-partisan unicameral system."

Bridenbaugh said he is not surprised that the political parties are trying to get the system changed. He said their own statement is that "one of the most compelling reasons for having a change is to strengthen the two-party system." But the Dakota City legislator said that this would only bring decisions and action along party lines.

* * *

"IN OUR present system, each member has an opportunity to think for himself, to listen to evidence produced at public hearings and debates on the floor, to confer with the people from his district and throughout the state and then make his own decisions," Bridenbaugh said.

Bridenbaugh said that the 1953 Legislature was attacked for having a large number of bills. He said it was also shown that this was an important and controversial session.

* * *

AND BRIDENBAUGH asked whether a two-house system would cut down the number of bills. He said that in the 1935 bicameral 1,056 measures were introduced, while two years later only 581 were put in the hopper in the first unicameral. In the 1953 session 595 bills were introduced.

The senator remarked, "I believe some improvements could be made. Perhaps increasing the number of members might help correct some of the objections mentioned. Certainly, corrective measures should be tried before throwing the whole system out of the window."

TOTS PLACE AT FAIRMONT—Graten Beavers and Sharon Dado, both of Fairmont, were among the prize winners with their "honeymoon" theme in the parade at Fairmont's Old Settlers Picnic.

Fairmont Picnic Big Success

Special to The Journal

FAIRMONT — The 77th Old Settler's Picnic at Fairmont Wednesday and Thursday provided plenty of thrills and excitement for all. The carnival on main street was the busiest place in town but hot weather and baseball games caused street activities to slacken in the afternoons.

Included in the two-day festival were a parade, a Thursday night amateur show, band concerts, baseball games and dances. The celebration was sponsored by the Fairmont Merchants, business men and the American Legion.

Fairmont librarian Zola Shoemaker was registering pioneers. One of the oldest to sign was Elizabeth Hawkins.

The Legion Auxiliary, Rebekah Lodge and West Blue Extension Club were parade float winners.

Truck Kills Man at York

Auto Fatalities

	July 23 1953	July 23 1952
Nebraska	146	169
Lancaster County	4	8
Lincoln	2	4

Special to The Journal

YORK — Frank Collingham, 86, of York was killed on a York street when hit by a truck, according to Chief of Police William J. Wolfe.

Driver of the loaded semi-trailer truck was identified as Jack Stephens of Oklahoma City.

The fatality was the first for York since 1947.

The police report said Collingham was crossing a street which is also U.S. Highway 81. Stephens told police he swerved his truck in an effort to miss the elderly man, who, Stephens said, appeared from behind the auto Stephens was following.

Police said the trucker sounded the horn and the man, apparently startled, moved into the truck's path.

He died at a hospital.

Wolfe said no inquest was planned and the trucker was not charged.

Souchek Takes Over As Talmage School Head

TALMAGE — Clarence Souchek of Bradshaw has arrived here to begin duties as superintendent of Talmage schools. He succeeds Dan B. Dallam who will head the school at Trenton. Dallam was here for 13 years.

Mrs. Souchek also will teach here.

Valentine Chief Named Cherry County Sheriff

VALENTINE (AP)—William C. Freeman, Valentine police chief, has been named Cherry County sheriff by county commissioners.

Freeman was named to succeed the late Arthur Jones, who died recently following a lengthy illness.

WACO STORM DAMAGE—A storm broke in two this airplane owned by Raymond Junge, farmer who lives three miles south of Waco. The wind, accompanied by 1.60 inches of rain, whipped the plane 80 feet from its hangar into the cornfield. Corn in York and Fillmore Counties also took a beating from the storm. (Journal Staff Photo.)

Hail, Wind, Root Worms Hurt York, Fillmore Corn Crops

Special to The Journal

Combinations of hail, high winds and root worms have caused considerable damage to corn in York and Fillmore Counties.

Damage earlier caused by root worms showed up in the form of weakened stalks which were badly bent by Tuesday's storm.

Worst damage in York County was in a strip five to six miles wide between Utica and Waco, according to Extension Agent Alvah Hecht. Other damage extended in a southwesterly direction from there, he said.

Heavy damage in Fillmore County was from Fairmont north to the York County line and south of Fairmont tapering off in the Geneva area, the PMA office at Geneva reported. Only slight hail was reported in this section.

The corn is straightening up quite a bit, Hecht said, and "a lot of it will still make a fair crop." The fact that the ears had not yet formed in most fields made it easier for stalks to come back up, the Geneva PMA office said.

Norfolk to Ask Federal Field Aid

NORFOLK (AP)—Norfolk's City Council has passed a motion instructing the State Aeronautics Commission to apply for $13,000 in federal funds to be used on a $26,000 armor coat project at Karl Stefan Field.

The commission will allocate $6,500 to the project and the city would contribute a similar amount.

Donald D. Mapes, Norfolk commission member, told the council that Norfolk could get the $13,000 from the federal government from its 1953 fiscal year allocation to Nebraska.

In addition to runways, an armor coat will be put on the taxi lanes, entrance road and other paving.

Suspect Held In Texan's Death

GERING (AP) — Scotts Bluff County Sheriff Steve Warrick said he had made an arrest in the slaying of Edwardo Zamora, 45, of Hills Center, Tex., whose body was found in an irrigation ditch.

Warrick would not give the name of the person held, prior to questioning.

Kansas Lets Contract For Blue River Bridge

Special to The Journal

HANOVER, Kan.—The Kansas Highway Commisison has let a contract for a new, modern bridge across the Little Blue River between Hanover and Barnes. Work will begin in August.

This is the first step in a move to straighten Highway 15E from Highway 9 at Barnes to the Nebraska state line.

The 15E Booster Club hopes to have the highway marked in Nebraska from the state line to connect with Nebraska Highway 3 running to Beatrice, Neb.

Cozad Girl's Attack Of Polio Is Light

COZAD (AP)—Angelia Zoerb, 6, has become the community's second polio case of the year.

Angelia has been hospitalized with what physicians termed a light attack.

Embracing Costs Motorist $29

OMAHA (AP)—Robert J. Kalaskey, 23, of Omaha was fined $25 and costs of $4 in county traffic court for "embracing."

State Safety Patrolman Fred Whalen filed a complaint after Kalaskey passed the patrolman and later pulled into an outside lane and, the patrolman charged, would not permit the officer to pass. Whalen was off duty at the time.

He charged the young man had his arm around a young woman and she appeared to be steering.

The couple denied she was steering.

Embracing is a seldom used section under "reckless driving" in Nebraska's traffic laws.

Whalen also received a $25 fine for speeding and had his driver's license suspended for 30 days. Appeal bond was set at $100.

Woman Escapes Burning Car

NORFOLK (AP)—Mrs. Chester Reed, 45, of Pierce was hospitalized here following her escape from a burning car after it collided with a semi-trailer truck north of Norfolk.

Mrs. Reed suffered cuts, bruises, shock and a possible collarbone fracture. The hospital described her condition as satisfactory.

Lt. Harry Brt of the Safety Patrol said Mrs. Reed drove onto Highway 81. A truck driven by Jacob C. Andringa, of Orange City, Ia., collided with the Reed car, wrecking the gasoline tank and starting a fire, Brt said.

The blazing car then hit a bridge and landed in a shallow creek where the car was destroyed by flames. Andringa was not reported injured.

Proven Ways of Keeping More or Less Cool

With another month of summer in the offing, when we can expect many hot days, there are a few tricks of "beating the heat of Old Sol" that have been tried by Lincolnites and Nebraskans The women assure us that the methods work.

One Lincolnite says that she rises in the morning, closes all the windows, draws the blinds and drapes. She makes an effort to keep the doors closed as much as possible during the day, and says that her house keeps about 10 degrees cooler than the outside temperature

Most women find that clothing is a big item in keeping cool Opaque materials which mean less in the way of petticoats and slips are a boon to keeping cool And many women find that shorts make a wonderful uniform when doing the household chores.

Tepid baths bring body temperatures down, and colognes and bath powder do much to relieve the sticky feeling Cologne sticks are wonderful inventions for summer

Doing the family cooking in the cool of the early morning and popping it into the refrigerator for the evening meals is another means of keeping the kitchen cool, and the cook cooler For as the termometer rises it is a cheerful thought to have dinner, cool and crisp waiting be served

Fans and more fans help on still, humid days. And several households use ice in front of the fans to bring room temperatures down.

The small fry have their own inimitable ways of keeping cool One 2-year-old youngster strips off his clothes as soon as he is out of his mother's sight, regardless of whether in or out of doors Other children delight in playing in the garden water sprinkler.

Of course there are those lucky families that have air conditioning in their homes and then reaction to hot weather is— we just stay inside"

Other families plan a break during the summer in such cool climates at Minnesota or Colorado. But for those who must stay at home the experts advise—"Slow down, do as little as possible in any field that requires great exertion, wear light clothing, and try to forget about the market on the thermometer."

There is no need to suffer from summer heat as far as Harriet Wenke (left) and Marilyn Pedersen are concerned They wear cool sundresses and relax in the breezes of three fans with a pitcher of lemonade (Journal Photo)

Memories Aroused By Request

Dear Mary Gordon: I am sending you the song "Two babes were born in the self-same town," requested by Mrs E Someway this request touched a very tender chord from my very early childhood

My mother being born and raised in Nova Scotia, came to Boston and was married, later, moving to Nebraska in a very early day.

She was so ambitious for her children and when we had school programs and each child was asked to participate —more often nothing was given them to memorize and particularly not to sing and my mother taught us so many verses and songs she had known as a girl in Boston and this happened to be one of them that I sang at a school program when I was a little girl

At the time I was too young to appreciate the effort she made to dress us so perfectly, always so festive for parties with very little to make clothes with—all the people were on homesteads and not blest with much of this world's goods

These songs were so doleful but all others were at that time

Anyway this has brought back sweet memories Hope Mrs J E E will enjoy the song —Mrs A G W

Answer. A number of kind-hearted readers copied the song for Mrs E and it has been sent on to her. Thank you, every one.

I suspect the request started in many older readers a train of memory that was similar to yours —M G.

Apricot Glazed Pie

Nothing captures the essence of summer better than Fresh Apricot Glazed Pie It is made in a baked or crumb crust First, there's a layer of vanilla pudding and over it is spooned a thick, golden apricot sauce A ring of lacy coconut around the edge of the pie completes the picture

Apricot Glazed Pie

1 cup coarsely cut Apricots
½ tablespoon gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
¼ cup cold water
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ tablespoon lemon juice
1 package vanilla pudding mix
2 cups milk
½ cup coconut
1 baked 8 inch pie crust

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add ¼ sup water to washed and pitted apricots and bring to boil Simmer 1 minute Mash to smooth pulp Combine sugar, salt, apricot pulp and lemon juice Cook over low heat until thick, stirring constantly. Add gelatin Make vanilla pudding according to directions and cool Pour vanilla pudding into baked crust and spoon apricot mixture over top Sprinkle shredded coconut around edge of pie for garnish and chill Serves 6 to 7.

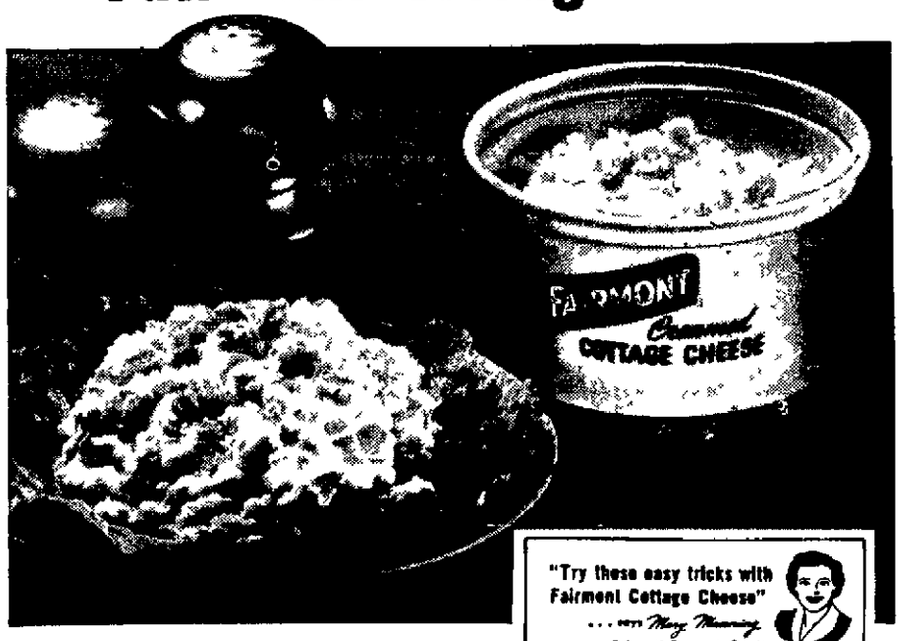

Pudding Garnish

Dress up vanilla pudding with a crunchy garnish of crushed peanut brittle

Council Keeps Eye on Improvements

Requests for capital expenditures relating to activities which will be housed in a city-county building if and when such structure is erected, will receive double checking at the hands of the City Council, now engaged in day and night budget studies.

"This has to do with improvements of a permanent nature," said Mayor Clark Jeary. "We should give thought to the possibility of eventually abandoning the present City Hall."

After giving the once over to requests of Minicipal Court, more than self-sustaining, city treasury requests, clerk and auditor and those of the tax commissioner and purchasing department, the council plunged into the domain of Public Safety Director Ray Osborn. Here again capital expenditures play a part. The police department request for equipment and the like is for $80,150 as compared with $43,550 last year. A major item is $49,000 for traffic signals. Other requests: cars and trucks, $4,000; radio, $2,000; motorcycles, $2,100; office equipment, $1,000, furniture and fixtures, $1,000; miscellaneous, $1,000.

The Fire Department requests $3,600 for new fire hose and $900 for miscellaneous equipment.

Jewelry Store Auction Ordinance Introduced

An ordinance regulating public auctions of jewelry store stocks has been introduced before the City Council and will have public hearing on third reading, in the normal course of events on Aug. 3.

It is aimed primarily at the operator who rents a vacant building, holds an auction and moves on. Similar legislation has been enacted in many midwest cities. Principal provisions:

1. Requires permit and application for it filed with city clerk at least 10 days before contemplated sale. Permit fee to be $100.
2. Good faith bond of $2,500.
3. No auctions between 6 p.m. and 8 a.m. of following day nor shall store be open between those hours.
4. Man doing public sale selling must be licensed as auctioneer.
5. Descriptive label on each article containing true and correct statement. During sale no additions to stock permitted. Sale limited to articles set forth in inventory attached to application for permit.
6. Council may revoke or suspend permit.
7. Penalty upon conviction, fine up to $100.

Gustafson Gage Assistant Agent

Special to The Journal

BEATRICE—According to an announcement by Irwin Burger of DeWitt, president of the Gage County Extension Board, Ronald Gustafson, 32, former veterans agricultural instructor at Liberty, has been appointed as assistant Gage County agent.

Gustafson

Gustafson, a graduate of Mead High School, received his B.S. degree from the University of Nebraska. His new duties will consist of assisting County Agent Robin Spence with county extension and 4-H work. Gustafson is married to the former Louise Loucks of Lincoln.

Tobin Funeral Held

BOSTON, Mass (UPI)—Funeral services were held Wednesday for Maurice J. Tobin, 52-year-old "boy wonder" of politics who died Sunday.

7 Nebraskans Buy Bet Stamps

OMAHA (UPI) — Seven federal wagering tax stamps have been purchased by Nebraskans for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The seven men — all from Omaha—are listed as:

Bernard Dibiase	Clarence P. Matya
Joseph Distilo	Sam Nocita
Paul Hanson	Charles Wehrer
Frank E. Mason

The $50 wagering stamps are required for bookies, lottery operators and others engaged in similar activities.

According to E. A. Hayes, district director of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, four of the stamps were purchased in the state last year.

No New Limit on Medical Pay

Special over-ceiling medical payments to old age assistance recipients do not have to come under the four mill county limit on general and relief expenditures, the state attorney general's office said in an opinion asked by Lancaster County.

Counties, however, are still limited to spending four mills for their general and relief budgets, even though the constitutional ceiling on all county expenditures is now 10 mills.

A law passed by the last Legislature raised the limit from three to four mills. But the three mills came out of a five mill ceiling while the four mills is out of a 10 mill ceiling.

While Lancaster County's budget shows general and relief expenditures well under the four mill limit, smaller counties with less valuation than last year because of the 50 per cent law may find themselves pinched by the ceiling.

Hastings Racing Firm Incorporates

Incorporation papers were filed with the secretary of state Wednesday for Central Nebraska Speedways, Inc., of Hastings.

The $10,000 corporation was formed to promote racing of all kinds, according to the articles.

Incorporators were M. C. Kent, Richard R. Stull, Don S. Biggs, and John E. Halloran. Also filed:

Hughes-Josten Lumber Co., Sidney; $100,000 authorized capitalization; Neil D and Helen F. Hughes of Kearney, and Raymond E Josten of Albion.

Possible Big League Shifts Draw Opposition

NEW YORK (AP)—Realignment of baseball's major leagues to take in Kansas City, Los Angeles and San Francisco is strongly opposed by at least three owners.

The possible shift of several franchises to populous areas now supporting minor league ball has been a red-hot issue ever since the Braves were transferred from Boston to Milwaukee with marked increase in gate receipts and the American League refused the Browns permission to move to Baltimore.

• • •

DEL WEBB, co-owner of the New York Yankees suggested at the recent major league meetings in Cincinnati that the American League transfer the Browns and the Philadelphia Athletics to Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Earlier this week the Sporting News, baseball publication, reported the Browns are due to leave St. Louis for Kansas City.

Other reports had the Phillies bowing out of Philadelphia if the Athletics don't, with either Los Angeles or San Francisco as their destination.

To these reports came answers from owner-president Bob Carpenter of the Phillies; Roy Mack, executive vice president of the Athletics and Clark Griffith, president and owner of the Washington Senators.

"I'm here to stay," said Carpenter. "If Webb thinks the Pacific Coast is such a swell place to have a ball club, let him move his own club out there."

• • •

PREVIOUSLY Mack said the Athletics were going to remain in Philadelphia.

Griffith expressed disapproval of a shift of the Browns to Kansas City.

"It's not that I have anything against Kansas City," said Griffith. "It's just that I don't want any change that will increase our traveling difficulties."

Griffith added he thought the American League should extend its territory no further west than St. Louis, pointing out there are several cities such as Baltimore and Minneapolis that would be interested in taking over the St. Louis franchise.

Lincoln Nudges Soos, 6-4, Before 2,702

By WALT DOBBINS
Journal Sports Editor

It was a gala night at Sherman Field Wednesday. The largest crowd of the season, 2,702 fans, jammed the park to capacity; the goal of 50,000 was surpassed by 2,180 and our Chiefs won the ball game, 6-4. The victory over Sioux City, plus Omaha's defeat, moved the Finney clan into fifth place in the standings, two and a half games behind fourth place Des Moines.

NORM BROWN, pitching out of turn at his own request, racked up his 14th triumph against six losses. Thus the home crew swept the abbreviated series with the Soos.

Brown fanned four and, except for the fourth and sixth, was rarely in trouble.

Lincoln got to Joe Stupak, the SC lefty, for four runs in a big second inning. Glenn McQuillen started it all by getting a hit off Jim Jones' glove. "Moose" Womack walked and Stupak was in trouble.

Joe Rivich beat out an infield hit to load the paths but the fans groaned when "Red" was forced at the plate on Jack Caro's roller.

Dick Willis came through with a bingle into right scoring Womack and Rivich. Caro scampered to third and Willis to second on Art Dunham's futile throw to the plate. Brown grounded out as all hands held but the old reliable Fred Hancock came through with a sizzler into center scoring Caro and Willis.

• • •

OUR CHIEFS got two more in the third when Tom Neill was plunked in the side and McQuillen singled. Womack moved them around on a sacrifice. Both scored on Joe Rivich's clean double.

That ended Lincoln scoring but only fast play by the Sioux City infield and a pair of dazzling catches by Ray Johnson and Dick Getter prevented further damage.

Meanwhile, our guests got back into the ball game by rapping Brown for three straight hits after two were away in the fourth. Marsh Bridges and Getter singled in order and they counted on Dunham's two-bagger.

Bob Myers and Earle Willis led off the sixth with singles and Rog Wright started to warm up in the bull pen. Brown got two men out but a wild pitch moved both runners into scoring position and they crossed on Dunham's blow. Brown settled down after that and allowed only one hit in the last three cantos.

• • •

THE VICTORY was the Chiefs' eighth in their current home stand of 11 games. They take to the road Thursday and do not return until Aug. 8 against the same club they defeated Wednesday night, the Soos.

Joe Rivich paced the Lincoln hitters against Stupak, getting three blows while Glenn McQuillen notched a pair.

Dodgers Ordered To Wear Helmets

BROOKLYN (AP)—Walter F. O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, Thursday ordered that all players in the Brooklyn organization must wear protective helmets while at bat.

Carl Furillo and Don Zimmer, St. Paul shortstop and heir apparent to Pee Wee Reese's job, were recently beaned.

Furillo wore a helmet and wasn't hurt.

Forget About the Yankees— Now It's Break Up the Dodgers

By the Associated Press

When the "break up" boys take a look at Thursday's major league standings they may want to consider switching leagues.

Instead of crying "break up the Yankees" as they have for years, they might find it more appropriate to start chanting "break up the Dodgers."

Thursday, for the first time since May 17, the American League has a closer pennant race than does the National League.

Brooklyn's steadily moving Dodgers lead Milwaukee by 5½ games. The New York Yankees own only a 4½ game bulge over Chicago.

• • •

THE DODGERS took a big stride forward Wednesday night by outclassing Chicago in a double-header, 9-3 and 11-1, as Milwaukee bowed to Philadelphia, 6-5.

The Yankees frittered away a full game of their lead by losing to Cleveland, 6-4, for the second straight night after the White Sox shaded Boston, 1-0.

Ever since the Dodgers came back to home cooking shortly before the All-Star game they've been fattening their margin. They've won 10 of their last 11 games with the single misadventure coming against Cincinnati Sunday.

The Yankees on the other hand have had their ups and downs recently, reaching their high point with two brilliant victories over Chicago on Sunday and then falling off immediately against Cleveland.

• • •

BROOKLYN combined excellent pitching, usually a rarity in Ebbets Field, with its normally heavy hitting to humiliate the hapless Cubs. Johnny Podres, a rookie lefthander, struck out 10 and gave up six hits in his second complete major league game. Veteran Carl Erskine allowed only four hits and also struck out 10 in the nightcap.

The Dodgers combed Chicago pitching for 24 hits including two home runs by Gil Hodges, who drove in seven tallies, and single circuit blasts by Carl Furillo and Duke Snider.

At Philadelphia the Phillies jumped on Warren Spahn for four runs in the first inning and the Braves couldn't catch up. The opening attack featured a two-run homer by Granny Hamner. It was Spahn's fourth loss against 12 victories.

The Yankees tried to win it early in Cleveland but their pitchers didn't have staying power. The Indians trailed by three runs after three innings. Then they got to Whitey Ford for a pair in the fourth on a home run by Tipton and took the lead in the fifth on a homer by Dale Mitchell and doubles by Al Rosen and Larry Doby. After a bad first inning Mike Garcia settled down to check the invaders for his 12th triumph.

• • •

THE STORY at Chicago was almost all pitching, as Virgil New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals swapped positions again as the Giants rallied for two runs in the ninth to edge the Cards 6-5. The victory moved New York back into fourth place. Al Dark's single with the bases loaded was the payoff punch.

Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati, 3-2 with Cal Abrams hitting two home runs for the Pirates. Paul LaPalme went all the way for his fifth victory. Pittsburgh had lost 10 in a row to the Redlegs this season.

GIL HODGES—Clobbers two homers for Dodgers.

Trucks scattered four hits and let only one runner get as far as second. Mel Parnell, ace of the Boston staff, hurled one of his best games too, but one hit, a triple by Chico Carrasquel to open the fifth inning, ruined him. Chico Hung on first while Trucks grounded out but he scampered home when Nellie Fox lofted a long fly to center field.

Parnell gave up three hits in seven innings before bowing out for a futile pinch hitter. The White Sox got one more safety off Ellis Kinder, who finished up. Trucks has won 12, seven of them in succession since joining Chicago in mid-June.

The only other American League action was in St. Louis were Bobby Shantz, last year's most valuable player in the loop, won his first game since May 3, a five-hitter over the Browns 11-1.

To Do a Swan

LIKE A BIRD—With the greatest of ease, Mary Ann Grundman of Hillcrest Country Club performs a swan dive at the club pool, where she lifeguards. The 22-year-old diving and swimming ace, a University of Nebraska graduate, is a home economics teacher at Tecumseh High School. In the above series of pictures, The Journal's sequence camera catches graceful Mary Ann as she begins her approach, and follows her until she enters the water in a well executed swan dive. (Journal Sequence Photos.)

Female Flinger Fires Win Despite Cut Finger

BOISE (AP) — While washing dishes, Wilma Freston suffered a cut in her pitching hand that required six stitches. But the next night she pitched her Salt Lake City softball team to an 8-2 victory.

Dan Wants Ezzard Next

CHICAGO (AP)—Dan Bucceroni and his manager, Don Battles, had sights set Thursday for only one target, ex-champion Ezzard Charles, as the only rock on the road toward the heavyweight crown now held by Rocky Marciano.

"Who else is there for me to fight?" Bucceroni inquired after his unanimous decision over Tommy Harrison in the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

"I got to beat Charles and then who should get a title fight more than me?"

Bucceroni, of Philadelphia, had his troubles with Harrison, but he survived a badly cut left eye in the seventh round to punch out a triumph.

There was only one knockdown. It came in the first round when Bucceroni, in a clinch, leveled a right to Harrison's chin which put him on the canvas until the count of seven.

PRIMA RASSLERINA—Hans Schmidt, ring villain who will participate in Friday night's card at the Fairgrounds Arena, claims that fans boo him for his roughness unfairly, since he is a rassler, not a ballerina.

Hans Rassler, Not Ballerina

Hans Schmidt, a methodical ring madman, prefers his wickedness to ballet and wishes that fans would not expect him to be a prima ballerina, since he is being paid to grunt and groan.

Schmidt will participate in the team rassle, part of Friday night's card at the Fairgrounds Arena, with Teammate Don Evans against Verne Gagne and Bill Melby.

The rassle villain, a native of Germany who came to this country after the war and service in the German army, receives more than his share of jeers and catcalls, he claims.

"I want the world title badly," he says, "and I can't win it by doing a ballet dance."

Overhauling the NEWS
By WALLY DeBROWN

Many domestic relations experts claim there's more harmony on the home front if wives are interested in their husband's hobbies. This is fine, if you're careful. For instance, we saw a news story about a man who took the little woman out for a round of golf; and like all good golfers, he kept his head down and his peepers on the pellet. His wife wondered what he was staring at . . . so she looked over his shoulder just as he swung. Fortunately, she wasn't hurt badly, and she didn't blame her hubby.

All this reminds us of the lad whose wife told him he'd have to choose between her and golf. "That's tough," his friend sympathized. "Yep," says our hero, "I'll kind of miss her." So, ladies, it's okay to share your hubby's hobby . . . but just don't crowd him.

Mighty Prince Hal Ends Tiger Career

DETROIT (AP)—Hal Newhouser, who piled up victories—and salary checks—at a terrific clip, leaves the Detroit Tigers with a painful pitching arm but many wonderful memories.

The 32-year-old southpaw, once the mightiest pitcher in the American League, if not the majors, was handed his unconditional release Wednesday by the last-place Tigers, who are building for the future.

● ● ●

THUS ENDED a 15-year career in which Newhouser won an even 200 games (against 148 losses) and earned approximately $500,000.

Jack Homel, Tiger trainer, gave the tip-off on Newhouser a while back. Said Homel:

"Just watch Newhouser on the mound. When he fiddles with the resin bag or turns and looks at the scoreboard, he's not showboating. His arm is hurting and he's stalling for time, trying to relieve the pressure of the pain."

Newhouser, a 20-game winner four times, was troubled on and off by a sore arm and was of little help to the Tigers during the last three seasons. In 1951, his record was 6-6. Last year it was 9-9.

This season, he worked only 21⅔ innings and had an 0-1 record. His earned run average was 5.91.

Tiger Skipper Fred Hutchinson kept saying he was saving Newhouser until the warm weather rolled around. Well, summertime came and Newhouser still saw little action.

But thing weren't always this tough for Prince Hal, whose baseball earnings enabled him to buy a castle-like home in nearby Franklin Hills.

● ● ●

FOR INSTANCE, he can look back on the 1944-45-46 seasons with pride. In those years he won 29, 25 and 26 games and baseball writers throughout the country were comparing him—and rather favorably, too—with such great lefthanders as Lefty Grove and Carl Hubbell.

In 1945, Newhouser helped pitched the Tigers to an American League pennant. He won two games and lost once in the winning World Series again the Chicago Cubs.

His best season?

"That was in 1946," he said. "After I had won all those games in the two previous seasons, some people were saying that I was a war-time pitcher. They said when the big hitters like Williams and DiMaggio came back I'd have my troubles.

"The big guys came back in '46 and I won 26 games and had the lowest earned run average in either league—1.94."

For his efforts in 1944 and '45, Newhouser was voted the league's most valuable player award.

"I just wished I could have been of some help to the team this year," he said. "This is the end. I'm finished. My arm just can't stand the strain anymore."

Actually, other clubs have five days to claim Newhouser. But, by baseball law, they'll have to pick up his $30,000 pay check for the rest of the season, too.

HAL NEWHOUSER—Painful arm, many memories

After that five-day period, Newhouser is free to make any kind of deal he can for himself.

Hunt Success Record Safe?

Nebraska's big game hunters will have to sharpen their shooting eye if they wish to approach or equal the all-time average Nebraska hunter success score during the December deer seasons. Beginning in 1945, and then again in '49 and through '52, almost 69 per cent of all Nebraskans who drew deer permits succeeded in killing deer.

The highest success score recorded in any one year was the 77.6 per cent mark registered by the 2,500 hunters last year. A total of 1,080 bucks and 841 does were checked through the different checking stations.

Nebraska's deer hunters for '53 haven't been determined as yet. Applications for hunting deer in five different areas are still being received. A total of 5,300 deer hunting permits will be issued. Deadline for all applications is July 31. Applications may be obtained from all county clerk offices, conservation officers and the Lincoln office of the Game Commission.

All applications are being made for a particular area. If the number of applications exceeds the number of permits to be issued for a particular district, a drawing will be held. Following are the different areas and number of permits to be issued in each:

Area 1 (Scotts Bluff, Morrill, Garden, Banner, Cheyenne, Deuel and Keith). 2,000 permits Dec. 1-3 (bucks only), Dec. 4-5 (any deer).

Area 2 (Sioux, Dawes, Sheridan and Box Butte). 2,000 permits Dec 1-3 (bucks only), Dec 4 5 (any deer).

Area 3 (Cherry, Thomas and Blaine), 300 permits Dec 7-11 (bucks only)

Area 4 (Keya Paha, Boyd, Brown, Rock and Holt), 500 permits, Dec. 7-11 (bucks only).

Area 5 (Knox, Cedar, Dixon and Dakota), 500 permits Dec. 7-9 (bucks only), Dec 10-11 (any deer).

Sportsmen interested in antelope hunting may apply for an antelope permit on the same application form.

Chadwick's After the Records—'All of Them'

DOVER, England (AP)—Florence Chadwick churns through the chilly waters of the English Channel these days in search of the greatest cleanup of international prizes since Bobby Jones won everything worthwhile in Anglo-American golf 23 years ago.

The 35-year-old former San Diego, Calif., stenographer swam the 24-mile Catalina Channel off the California coast last September, and before this September rolls around hopes to swim:

1. The English Channel both ways non-stop—45 miles airline distance but closer to 125 miles as the currents meander.

2. The Turkish Dardanelles both ways non-stop—a total of only eight miles but filled with treacherous currents.

3. The Straits of Gibraltar—14 miles.

This is the time of year when fish in the channel move over to make room for humans lured by what is still the supreme accolade of long distance swimming—a channel conquest.

● ● ●

THERE ARE about 20 swimmers in Dover or nearby Folkestone training in wind-whipped waters colder than they have been for many years in July.

But the husky, bronzed Californian—a solid 155 pounds—is acknowledged queen of the pebbly beaches. And she is even given a good chance to beat all the men's as well as the women's records, if she gets a break.

"I've already swum the channel both ways," she said in a little hotel snug against the towering white cliffs of Dover. "So this time I'm after the records—all of them.

"The England-to-France route is the tougher one and I'm going to start from here and head for Wissant in Normandy. If I get there in good shape, and I ought to, I'll start right back for Dover.

"It's probably my last year of record-breaking so I want to get in all the swim and all the marks. Then I can go back to the States and concentrate on sportsmen's shows and coaching, and leave the younger generation something to shoot at like Jones did in golf."

I May Be Wrong

By Walt Dobbins
Journal Sports Editor

College stars of the 1952 pigskin season will clash with the Detroit Lions, pro loop champions, in the annual classic at Chicago's Soldiers Field on Friday, Aug. 20.

One of the coaches who will aid Bobby Dodds of Georgia Tech, head mentor of the collegians, is ex-Husker George Sauer, currently top man at Baylor University.

Sauer has been visiting relatives and friends in Lincoln the past few days.

A majority of the players who will oppose the Lions will hail from the Southeastern and Southwest conferences. Five were members of Jim Tatum's Maryland U squad and four each hail from Georgia Tech and Michigan State. Only four—Donn Moomaw, John Olszewski, Jim Sears and Jim Psaltis—will represent Pacific Coast teams.

Injuries will keep Husker Bobby Reynolds from competing. In fact the Grand Island ball toter had the cast removed from his ankle only last Wednesday afternoon.

Mills Isn't Always Funny

Young Billy Mills, the comedian who entertained Lincoln fans at Sherman Field the other night, sees little hope for minor league ball unless the majors do something about it right away.

"I usually show in 45 to 50 minor league towns and cities," Mills stated. "The attendance is down everywhere. This crowd here tonight (1,988) is one of the largest I've played before this season in Class A ball.

"I'm headed east right now but will be back in this territory again in August. I've got a date in Wichita and hope to add Denver to my itinerary. But back to baseball, the majors will certainly ruin minor league ball if they continue to encroach on minor league territory.

"If the Browns should move into Kansas City, for example, the Western Association might as well fold. It would hurt your league here. As I see it, the Western League can't afford to lose Denver or even Omaha. I believe, however, that of all the cities mentioned as a replacement that Salt Lake City is the best," Mills asserted.

"The Utah capital has a fine park in Salt Lake and the city is growing. The question in my mind is whether the eastern clubs in the Western could stand that long a trip financially.

"This whole minor league business looks pretty black to me right now."

That's what Bill Hayes thought, too, and was one of the reasons Bill got out of the game.

Trading Big Gamble

"Trading is the biggest gamble in baseball, for no one can tell in advance how a deal is going to work out," The Sporting News points out.

Take the Red Sox, for example. They reached the All-Star intermission in fourth place with a 47-39 won-lost record. Nobody in the Boston organization nor anyone acquainted with the Red Sox ever thought they'd be this good.

One of the reasons for the Red Sox' showing was a winter deal in which the Red Sox sent Vern Stephens to the White Sox in exchange for three pitchers — Marv Grissom, Harold (Skinny) Brown and Bill Kennedy.

The player the Red Sox figured would be the biggest help to their thin pitching staff was Grissom. Brown and Kennedy were more or less throw-ins. But now the only survivor is Brown.

This 27-year-old Carolinian has been the reason the Red Sox swindled the White Sox. He already has beaten each rival club in the circuit at least once. He hasn't chosen any particular club or two to compile his surprising and successful record.

When the Red Sox discussed the Vern Stephens deal with the White Sox, they knew what they were getting in Brown. They once had given up on Brown. He had started his organized ball career in the Boston chain, and after four years in the minors was used as part payment for a big righthander, Charley Schantz.

"All I wanted was a chance to show I could pitch in the big leagues," says "Skinny" in The Sporting News story. "While a lot of people had the impression I was a six or seven-inning pitcher, I never felt that way. I was never given a chance to prove I could go the route until it was given me by Lou Boudreau. I'll always be grateful to him for the opportunity."

The best proof of Brown's endurance this season was his 11-inning, 2 to 1, triumph over the Yankees. Among his best pitched games was a two-hitter against the Browns and a four-hit shutout against Washington.

Indians Option Hurler

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians optioned pitcher Bob Chakales to their Indianapolis farm club in the American Association Thursday.

Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, describes first baseman Preston Ward as "the key man" in the deal which sent Ralph Kiner to the Chicago Cubs.

Papa Jockey Teaches Son Track Ropes

CHICAGO (AP)— Johnny Adams, a business-like Jockey, is having his difficulties these days teaching the fine points of his profession to his son, John Ralph Adams.

"One thing though," Adams said, "having him around all the time sure cuts down on the worrying about him."

Adams, one of the top jockeys in the nation, and his son are currently riding at Arlington Park.

● ● ●

THE ELDER Adams, 41, said the only time he thinks about his boy, "as a son" is at home or away from the track.

"When we're both riding he's just like any other jock and I try to beat him like I would any other boy riding," Adams said, "maybe sometimes a little harder."

The elder Adams, who has won most of the big stake events in his colorful career, admitted he has helped his 19-year-old son, "when we aren't riding of course."

"I showed him some things that will help him in the business. Just like any father would do for his son," Adams said.

"Things like how to keep the mount from drifting too far outside on a turn, when to hit a hole for the lead, how to hug a rail when its right and things like that."

Adams who can't conceal a little bit of parental pride, said the only one who really thinks much about father and son riding on the track is Mrs. Adams.

"It's bad enough when I ride but when we're both in a race she just naturally has a fit," Adams said with a grin.

REPLACING THE TOSS—Members of Amos and Blackbird softball teams seem to have replaced the toss as a method of determining who will bat first, and have gone back to "high on the bat." From left are Lena Arenas and Jeannette Reifschneider of Amos and Mary Mayer and Jane Riddle of the Blackbirds. Amos won its city league softball tilt from the Blackbirds Wednesday night, 6-2. Pioneer West Club Cops All-Star Game

DAVID CITY — The annual Pioneer Nite League All-Star game, played here Wednesday night, turned into a rout as the West All-Stars pounded four East pitchers for 11 hits and seven runs while the East could score but one run off the West hurlers.

The West, which copped a 7-1 verdict, was made up of players from David City, Schuyler and Columbus. The West nine opened its scoring in the first when Dennis Korinek singled, stole second and came home on Jerry Okrina's single.

The West scored again in the second when Don Erway singled, moved to second when Babe Penney was hit by a pitched ball and scored on Norm Coufal's single.

In the fifth another run was scored when Bugs Redden doubled and Okrina doubled him in. In the sixth the West scored two runs when Don Claussen walked, Pat Mallette singled, and Claussen scored on Korinek's ground out. Mallette then scored on a passed ball.

In the seventh with the bases loaded Jim Sanstedt walked Don Claussen to score Jerry Faltys. The West scored its last run in the eighth when Bob Becker singled Don Thimgam home from second base.

Vaughn Hazen scored the East's only run in the ninth inning.

Sky Sox Gain First Place Tie

By The Associated Press

A ninth inning homer by Centerfielder Jim Landis gave Colorado Springs a 6-5 Western League verdict over Denver Wednesday night and lifted the Sky Sox into a first place tie with the Bears.

Pueblo pulled within 6½ games of the leaders by defeating last place Wichita, 7-5.

Tree-ripened APRICOTS now pouring in at Safeway

You know summer's really hit its stride when you see apricots like these. All plump and golden-yellow ...with juiceful "sunny" flavor that's come to full peak right on the trees! Apricots are delicate, so ours are rushed here soon as they're picked off the trees. And at Safeway we keep apricots cool, dry and out of the sun. You'll find both "finger-dent" apricots for eating fresh... and the slightly firmer fruit that's ideal for canning...at Safeway now.

NEW YORK (UP) — The stock market rally started late Wednesday got into full swing around noon Thursday with oil and automotive stocks taking over leadership from rails

All groups participated and individual gains ranged to more than 2 points Measured by the averages, industrials at noon were $1 higher, rails 55 cents higher and utilities 4 cents higher.

Gains in the oil section ranged to 2½ points in Texas Pacific Land Trust, more than a point each in Barber Oil and Cities Service

Automotives, under pressure in the early part of the week, strengthened in active trading

Corporate Bonds Are in Demand

NEW YORK (AP)—High grade corporates were in demand in a steady bond market Thursday Some long-term treasury liens declined

At the start of the final hour, short-term and intermediate U S government bonds were quiet but the more distant maturities eased The new 3¼s were off 2-32 at 100 4-32 bid Victory 2½s of 1967-72 slipped 6-32 at 93 2-32 bid

Foreign liens were irregular Japanese bonds climbed fractions Brazilian issues dipped

Volume picked up as noontime approached and low yield obligations were sought after Selected railroads and utilities were especially firm. Convertibles were mixed.

'Smoke' Hits Road; Almost Snuffed Out

The mystery of the riderless horse—found saddled and bridled just south of College View—has been solved.

And his owners, the T. M. Duffields of 1607 So. 17th, are happy he's safe.

"Smoke," who ran away when Duffield dismounted for a few minutes Wednesday evening had at least one narrow brush with death in his brief freedom, and may have had more.

For he wound up his nocturnal jaunt about 50 blocks from where he started, apparently having gone down heavily-traveled So. 48th much of the way. Duffield was not far from 3730 Normal, where he keeps the horse, when Smoke decided to set out on his journey.

Bill Walker, who works at the College View Sales barn, reported to the sheriff's office that he had at the barn a saddled, bridled and unidentified horses.

* * *

THE HORSE had nearly been struck by an unidentified motorist on Highway 2 just before it turns north and becomes 48th.

"Smoke" had been turned down the road leading toward the sales barn Walker and the motorist, who had stopped, caught him and took him to shelter. That was about 10:45 p.m.

Then Walker informed the sheriff's office and Deputy Les Hasson went to work, made several phone calls, finally contacting the Duffields.

Lost Wink Brings Suit

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—An eyelash curler ruined her wink, a free-lance model charges, and she's suing the manufacturer for $25,000. She claimed that "the rubber edge of the curler was missing" and that when the curler was removed all the lashes from one eyelid went with it.

'Poor' Charge Of Cattlemen Irks Ag Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agriculture Department officials privately expressed some surprise and irritation over the charges of drought-stricken cattlemen that they have had to take a "pauper's oath" to get emergency federal aid.

One said that the cattlemen themselves "wrote the terms" of the government's program and specifically asked that it be set up on a "basis of need."

THE OFFICIALS spoke up after Texas moved to set up a $1.25 million state aid program following the complaints of cattlemen that they had to swear they were just about bankrupt to get any cut-rate government feed being shipped into the drought country.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson did not immediately comment.

* * *

HE HAS PREVIOUSLY ruled that under the $8 million federal program farmers who don't have the "financial ability to remain in business and satisfactorily maintain their herds" with "reasonable chance for successful operations" are eligible to buy cut-rate feed.

Tractor Pull Hiked 10 Pct. By Tune-up

More than 100 implement dealers, attending the tractor testing short course at the College of Agriculture, were told that tractor horsepower could be increased an average of 10 per cent by a complete motor tune-up.

Herbert Giesman of Papillion explained his method of tuning tractor motors. He built a power absorption unit by using a automotive type engine. The exhaust valves were closed to cause it to act as a compressor rather than a gasoline engine. This absorption is measured in horsepower.

THE TRACTOR being tuned is attached by a belt to the power absorption unit which indicates the actual horsepower exerted by the tractor during the tuning-up process. The tractor in this way is tuned "under load" which represents actual field conditions.

The horsepower of a three-plow tractor has been increased as much as 20 per cent after being tuned in this manner, Giesman says.

* * *

J. W. SCHIELDS, engineer of the United States Rubber Co., told the group that the performance of rear tractor tires depends on five things: engine horsepower, operating speed; soil characteristics; tire load and; inflation pressure. He explained that tires always slip when pulling. The maximum slippage varies with the type of soil. The maximum slippage is 5 per cent for paved road, 10 per cent for clay soil, 15 per cent for loam soil, and 20 per cent for sand.

Schields said the pulling power of tires depends on the inflation pressure and the load carried. More load increases the pull; higher inflation reduces the pull.

BUICK
DEALER

AND YOU CAN BE SURE OF THAT—BECAUSE: We're in business to stay. As your local Buick dealer, we put a mighty high value on our good name—in used-car dealings as well as new cars. And there's a four-way benefit for you in our buys—

1. BUICK-INSPECTED—by our own trained mechanics.
2. BUICK RECONDITIONED—for appearance, performance and safety.
3. BUICK DEALER "ALL SQUARE" GUARANTEE—covers car firmly for 30 days.
4. CUSTOMER SATISFACTION—just as if you were purchasing a new car.

Right now, we have a lot of fine used cars to show you—the new '53 Buicks are hot as pistols, and bringing in a number of excellent trade-ins. Drop in and see for yourself.

TOP
SALESMAN
I could never begin to put in writing the real meaning of this opportunity. It is difficult to write an ad that will attract attention of good men due to the fact that so many advertisements appear in the paper. Our business is wonderful and getting better every day. Our men are happy in their work, making from $100 to $200 per week. I could list 50 names but it would only take up a lot of space. It doesn't matter what kind of work you have been following. If you are out of a job or are searching for something better than you now have, here is a lifetime opportunity that I will prove to you pays more money on our liberal commission, bonus and lead set-up than any other proposition in the country. Our deal is brand new. Alert men are quick to see the amazing earning potential—but only ambitious men appreciate it. We are particularly interested in men looking for rapid promotion and willing to work for it. If you have a good car and want to make top money, contact C. O. Neese—Hotel Cornhusker, Wed. & Thursday, 1-3:30 pm & 6-8 pm 23

How to Torture Your Husband — By Webster-Roth

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

BY ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D Sc.

1 No Most psychologists doubt that we have any instincts Psychologist Roy Dorcus points out that mothers of unwanted children often show no interest in their babies They couldn't help loving them if they had 'maternal instinct' Many mothers handle their first baby so clumsily it's sure pain they have no special instinct for handling babies

2 It is doubtful except the select few who expect to use them Most students learn only a few broken sentences in two years But, by intensive special all-out training some have been taught to speak Siamese 'like natives' in three months others learned to speak Russian in six weeks One student delivered Spanish lectures in South America after two months of study Thousands of such special students should learn at least two foreign languages

3 Yes Many doctor's offices are crowded with sick people who have genuine aches and pains solely because they are still adult children — emotional morons They have the habits of children eight to ten years old
